April vote likely for unit school district issue*ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Supporters of a proposed Lake Villa Unit School District are confident the issue will be on the ballot this April.

The decision by Judge Stephen Walter to uphold the decision, reached by State Superintendent Joseph Spagniolo, paves the way for the issue to reach the ballot. The only way it could be stopped is if Millburn School District files an appeal in the Appellate Court.

The Committee of Ten, representatives of unit district supporters, claim an appeal from Millburn is unlikely. Millburn officials say the decision is yet to be made.

"If Millburn appeals they would have to prove the judge acted improperly," said Joann Osmond, chairwoman of the Committee of Ten.

Osmond said if an appeal is filed it would have to be based on the judge's decision, not if the unit petition was proper.

Millburn Superintendent Dr. Jim Blockinger said the Millburn

Board is yet to make a decision on the issue. Millburn held the monthly meeting and the issue was not discussed by the board as an agenda item.

"The board president was not there. There was no discussion on it," Blockinger said.

Blockinger said Millburn's attorney Jim Bakk has told the board he is willing to file an appeal if the board wishes.

For Osmond and unit supporters, this may be the chance they have been seeking to let the voters decide the unit district issue.

"I think people just want the opportunity to vote on the issue," Osmond said.

The proposed K-12 unit district would cover most of Lake Villa Township with the exception of Emmons, Gavin and Round Lake School Districts. It would take all of Lake Villa Elementary District, and portions of Millburn and Antioch Elementary Districts. It would also take a portion of Grayslake, Grant and Antioch High School District. Township endorses sewer study*MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Township Board has agreed to send a letter to Lake County Public Works Department in support of a proposed sewer feasibility study. The study would evaluate the possibility of the installation on a sewer line into the unincorporated areas.

"I am 100 percent for a study," said Trustee Rich Kufalk. The other board members agreed.

While the sewer feasibility study was not on the agenda because of a miscommunication, representatives from United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA) had asked the board during the citizens comment portion of the meeting to send a letter.

"We are here tonight to ask the township to send a letter in support of the study," said UHAUA President Carole Jonites. "We have had some discussions with Trustees Tim Osmond and Claudette Skvarce regarding the study."

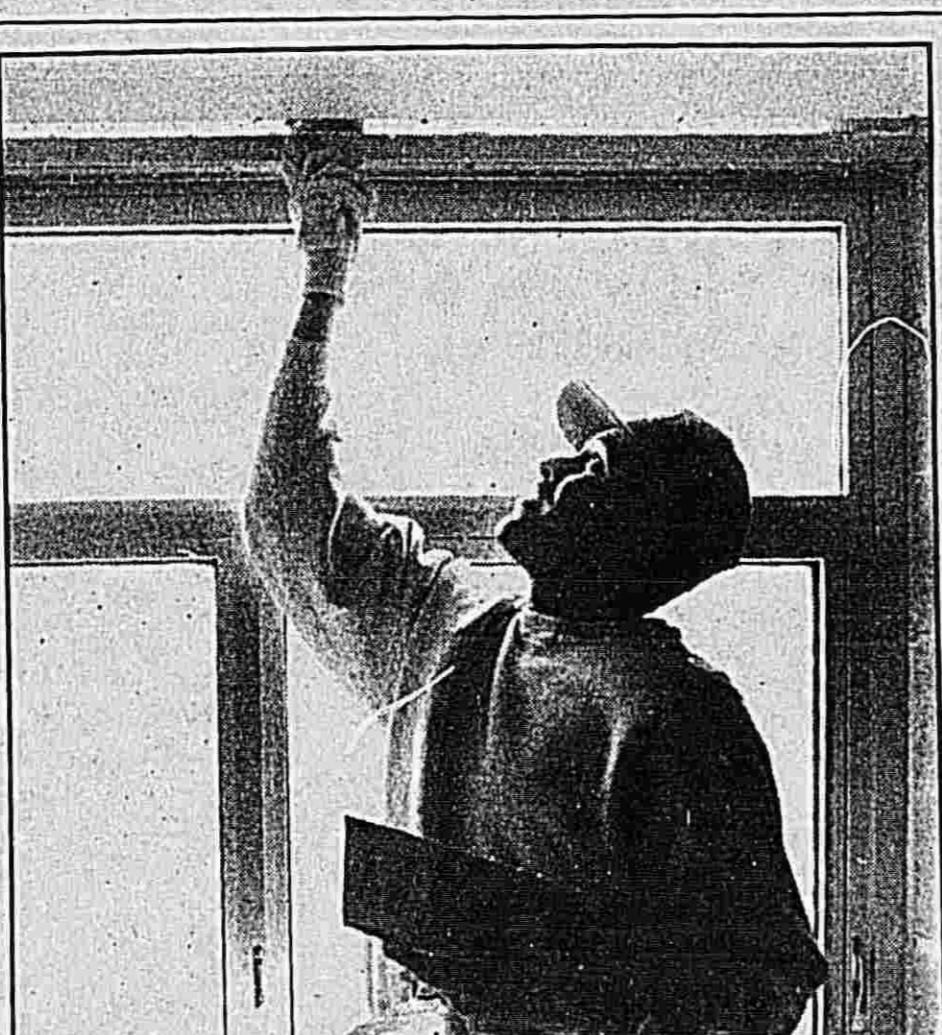

Trustees voiced some concerns about the financing of sewers, if indeed, they are feasible. Specifically, the establishment of a special service district worries some trustees.

Resident Terry Colby told the board of the expense of repairing or replacing a failed septic system. "They are $10,000 to $12,000 now," said Colby. "Just to do a septic system."

Jonites also told the board the Lake County Board of Health is in the process of revising septic regulations, which may increase the cost of replacement even more. Antioch Township Supervisor Jim Fields spoke of his frustration regarding septic systems and County officials.

"The sewers here have worked for 40 years," said Fields. "Now the Health Department is coming out here and telling people they can't fix them."

Baseball fields again come to plate

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Lake Villa Village Board will meet with Lake Villa Township Baseball League officials to hammer out an agreement between the two parties.

The two sides are working on a bilateral agreement which should cover issues such as liability, maintenance and ownership of the proposed baseball fields in the Sun Lake Forest Preserve. The two sides will meet on Jan. 18 to finalize an agreement.

If an accord is reached, Mayor Frank Loffredo said he could present the agreement to the Lake County Forest Preserve.

Loffredo is working on scheduling a meeting with the new Forest Preserve Chairman, James LaBelle to discuss the status of baseball fields.

The village has acted as the negotiation agent for the league. The village is trying to get approval to allow three baseball fields and a concession stand at a Sun Lake Forest Preserve site located west of Deep Lake Road on Grass Lake Road.

The league already has about 650 kids from throughout Lake Villa Township which participate. The league is looking for a permanent facility which would guarantee adequate space and time for programs to continue.

In allowing the agreement in which the village granted the Sun Lake Forest Preserve in 1991, the village stipulated a portion of the site would be reserved for playing fields.

Forest Preserve officials are concerned with whether a preserve should have such a recreational purpose on the site. Also, officials have expressed concern about the environmental aspects and maintenance of the site.

In other business, the village has set a date of Feb. 15 for business owners to register with the village. Registration is free, however, if the application is late a fine will be imposed.

The board will use the information to formulate future marketing plans and promote village businesses.

Also, a meeting on the Sequoia Creek will be held Jan. 20 at 1:30 p.m. at Lake Villa Village Hall.

UHAUA reviews sewer study progress

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The sewer feasibility study topped the agenda for the general membership meeting of United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA). President Carole Jonites gave the group an update.

"To date, 1,030 homes have been represented by letters requesting the sewer feasibility study," said Jonites. She went on to tell the group more letters are needed.

Jonites then told the group the township agreed to also send a letter asking for the study. The study would analyze the feasibility of sewers in the unincorporated areas of Antioch Township as well as provide a cost estimate.

According to Jonites, the Fox Waterway Agency has sent a letter in support of the study. Jonites also circulated a letter from the Lake County Health Department, which addressed the need for sewers in Antioch.

In the letter, Individual Sewage Disposal Program Coordinator Anthony Smithson said, "In my view, Antioch Township is the single largest area most in need of this service in Lake County. I will be pleased to provide whatever assistance I can to your efforts."

Smithson noted, "Systems installed many years ago which have worked well in the summer are now inundated with groundwater during the spring wet season. Even where suitable soils are available, lot sizes prohibit appropriately designed alternative systems. Citizens wishing to upgrade properties are restricted and moneys are spent in 'desperate' repair attempts."

UHAUA representatives are now planning to speak before the Antioch Village Board and request a letter of support from the village. The issue will be on the Feb. 6 meeting of the village board.

Other plans by the group are to approach township businesses asking for letters requesting the study. Don Mentone of Mentones was present at the meeting and has volunteered to approach some business owners in this regard.

The next meeting for UHAUA is scheduled for Feb. 21 at 7:30 p.m. On the agenda will be a Lake County attorney to discuss subdivision/association property rights.

Richmond/Spring Grove Chamber to install directors

The Greater Richmond-Spring Grove Area Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual Installation Dinner.

On Jan. 27 at Andre's Dinner/Theatre on Rte. 12 in Richmond, directors will be officially sworn into the Chamber.

The event begins at 6 p.m. with a social hour, then at 7 p.m. dinner starts, and the play, "Marriage Go Round" will be performed.

Cost per ticket is $25. You may call the Chamber for more information at (815) 678-7742.

School, town cope with student's death

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Antioch, and in particular, St. Peter School members are trying to cope with the untimely death of 7-year-old Richard Ward. Ward was struck and killed by a car while waiting for the school bus last week.

The accident occurred at approximately 7:30 a.m., Jan. 12, when the Antioch area was blanketed with heavy fog. According to witnesses, Ward crossed Lake Avenue and the driver was unable to see him. No tickets were issued.

Crisis intervention teams were called to the school to talk with students, some who witnessed the accident. Other students were told of the accident and were permitted to discuss the feelings openly. Letters were sent home with students alerting parents of the accident.

Antioch resident Terry Colby said her child witnessed the accident. "They took him out of class and talked to him," said Colby. Apparently, students on the bus as well as those at the bus stop saw the accident.

"We are very grateful for the overwhelming response from crisis intervention teams from area schools and SEDOL who talked with our students and staff during the morning to help us cope with this tragedy," said Principal Sharon Henriksen in a letter sent home to parents.

"We know that you will join us in prayer for Richard's parents and family," Henriksen continued.

A memorial mass was held at the St. Peter Church on Friday. Students, staff, and parents attended the mass in which the lower grade students sang a special song to Ward. A funeral mass was held on Jan. 14.

Homeowners complain about Fox River bridge

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Homeowners living in the Fox River Springs subdivision are complaining about visibility problems at the just completed Fox River bridge on Route 173. According to one resident, the guard rail on the bridge obscures the line of sight on homeowners attempting to leave the subdivision.

"We keep having to pull out farther and farther," said Chris Peters. "Sooner or later there is going to be an accident."

The bridge project seemed to be a nightmare from the start. The completion was delayed because of engineering problems. As a result, residents were plagued with a single lane bridge during the entire summer. On weekends, a motorist could sit through two and three lights waiting to cross the bridge.

Peters had asked Antioch Township if some help could be provided. However, because it was a state project, Supervisor Jim Fields did not feel confident the township could help.

"We have had two women already in here about that," said Fields. "It is a state project. We can't do anything about it. There is nothing we can do. We tried it with the Grass Lake Road bridge."

Fields suggested a petition from the subdivision could be sent to the state. In addition, Trustee Tim Osmond suggested Peters could talk to State Representative Robert Churchill about the problem.

'Mean' snake taken by burglars

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Sometime between Sunday night and Monday morning, Pine Tree Pet Shop was burglarized. Taken were two snakes and two turtles.

"They went through the garage door," said Craig White, manager. "The opening was small, maybe 14 to 18 inches."

The thieves took an African Rock Python, approximately 3 feet long and a year old described as black and gray. Also taken were two painted turtles with 5-inch shells and a green snake approximately 1 1/2 feet long, one year old, described as bright green.

White said while the python is not poisonous, it can grow up to 20-feet long. However, the snake is described as "mean." "Whoever took him," speculated White, "I bet he got bit."

Pythons, which are closely related to boas, include some of the largest snakes in the world. According to White, the python taken has a diet of mice and small mammals.

"We think it is probably kids," said White. "The turtles cost only $8 each."

Antioch Police Department is investigating. They are hoping some parent will notice the addition of a large snake into the household and report it.

Woman fends off attacker in home

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

Grayslake Police Chief Dennis Koletsos has a word of caution for people who use overhead garage doors after a Grayslake woman successfully fended off a knife-wielding attacker in her home.

"Make sure no one comes in behind you while the garage door is still open. When the garage door is closed, be sure to lock the house door behind you," Koletsos said.

According to Koletsos, the victim of the knife attack, a 36-year-old woman, did neither of those things before she was attacked inside her home around 12:30 p.m. Jan. 11. She had just arrived home and had gone into the house on Alleghany Rd. when she was followed by the attacker less than a minute later.

"She was very lucky. This could have been a serious tragedy," Koletsos said.

Koletsos was referring to the fact the woman received only a cut to the hand while defending herself. It is not clear whether the attacker fled on foot or by car. The suspect was described as a white male between 18 and 25 with medium build and was roughly 5 feet 8 inches tall. He wore a ski mask covering his hair and surgical gloves during the attack with a black-handled knife. He was also wearing white jeans and a gray or brown coat.

Koletsos did not wish to completely detail the man's physical characteristics because an 'intense investigation' is still underway. Police blanketed the area following the attack and have since interviewed a number of possible suspects, but Koletsos confirmed the police department has no suspects at this time.

A possible motive for the attack could not be disclosed as well as other sensitive details regarding the investigation. Koletsos would only say the police department is very interested in solving this case and apprehending the attacker.

Party antics include pistol threats

JENNIFER WHISENAND

Staff Reporter

The evening began as a employee party at a house in the 100 block of Washington Boulevard, Mundelein. The trouble started when Brian Haberstroh, 21, of 1820 Delaney Rd., Gurnee, showed up.

Party guests told police Haberstroh was acting strangely when he first came to the party.

Haberstroh stayed at the party for a short period of time then left. Returning soon after, he brought along a .32 caliber automatic pistol.

According to witnesses, Haberstroh pointed the pistol at the head of a party guest from Antioch and said, "So you think you're a tough guy."

Another party-goer from Mundelein wrestled Haberstroh to the ground and took the gun away from him. The gun was unloaded and placed in Haberstroh's vehicle, away from the party.

Haberstroh stayed at the party awhile longer, then drove off with another person who was at the party.

Police were contacted about the incident at the party and traced Haberstroh to Grayslake.

He was stopped by Grayslake police and returned to Mundelein, where he was charged and processed.

Haberstroh was arrested and charged with the unlawful use of a firearm, possession of a firearm by a felon, two counts of aggravated assault, one count of reckless conduct and one count of not having a FOID, Fire Owner's Identification card.

Bond was set at $50,000, and Haberstroh was held in the Mundelein jail until bail could be posted. A court date had not been set.

Sheriff warns stay off ice

Lake County is well known as a primary, year round, midwestern recreation area, and while the Chain of Lakes is recognized for summer activities such as boating and fishing, the cold weather brings winter sportsmen to participate in ice fishing, skiing and snowmobiling.

"The changeable weather conditions and frequent thawing has caused most bodies of water to be unsafe for snowmobiles," said Lake County Sheriff Clinton O. Grinnell.

The recommended ice thickness for safe operation is no less than six inches, as the average snowmobile and driver weighs approximately 700 pounds.

See Me For Your 1995 Advertising Needs.

Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your advertising puts you at a disadvantage the very moment you need an edge. Increasing your advertising gives you the edge.

In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want information. One of the main ways they get information about products, services, prices and values is from advertising. Yours or somebody else's.

Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a company that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.

Advertising is news-about products and services. Most consumers look for this kind of news in the pages of their community newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the community newspaper because it provides immediate payoff at the cash register.

Now is a great time to call me. I have a genuine concern for my clients. I will never try to sell you more than you need. I work hard at finding what will work for you.

I can bring your business to the attention of over 200,000 potential customers in 13 papers across Lake County, or reach just one community! Call me today, your success is my business!

Frank Walsh will truly be missed

Good-bye, friend

The Grass Lake area of Antioch will truly miss one of our beloved citizens, Frank Walsh, Sr. Frank died on Jan. 4, and his death has truly saddened the community. It is hard to imagine driving down Frank's road and not seeing him out tending his beautiful garden.

Who will us "younger" people turn to for guidance at election time? Frank was always on hand to investigate and inform us about the strengths and weaknesses of candidates and/or issues.

Frank gave new meaning to the phrase "young at heart," and if you ever had the pleasant opportunity to experience his quick wit and marvelous sense of humor, you will know what I mean. Many human beings exist on our planet, however, the Frank Walsh's of the world, who live their lives to the fullest; make a difference in the quality of life around them. Good-bye, friend.

Auditions

The PM&L Theatre of Antioch recently held auditions for their production of "Inherit the Wind." This particular show will consist of a very large cast of about 30 actors. Rehearsals will begin in February and show dates will begin late March and run until early April. Ken Smouse will be the director, and the assistant director will be Gigi Willding. Aileen Biel will be the stage manager. There will be more news to follow as the show dates approach.

Very smart

As Miss Mary (Theel) of the Camp Crayon program excitedly stood before the children teaching them about our new month, new year and new seasons, she also discussed the many winter scenes pictured around the calendar on the bulletin board.

Little Kevin Jenson (who was sitting next to me) inquired, "Miss Liz, how come Miss Mary knows so many things?" My answer came out in a flash. "Oh Kevin, Miss Mary is very smart and she knows everything about the calendar." Kevin agreed in awe, "Yes, I know," once again proving it takes so little to please the many little ones at Camp. Having them be impressed with their perception of our "Einstein-like mentality" of knowledge is definitely one of the perks of the job.

It's a...?

Little five-year-old Amy O'Quinn brought her pet hamster, named Oreo, to Camp Crayon for Show 'n Tell. As he busied himself with making a huge pile out of the wood chips in his cage, drinking some water, cleaning himself, nibbling at some food, etc., Miss Lois (Petykowski) exclaimed, "He's as busy as a beaver!" Amy said, "He's not a beaver, Miss Lois, he's a hamster."

Once again, "out of the mouths of babes."

Honor society

In October, the ACHS Faculty Council announced the names of students selected for membership in the ACHS Chapter of the National Honor Society. The council evaluated 145 candidates and conferred the honor membership upon those who excelled in scholarship, leadership, service and character.

Fifty-three inductees from the class of 1996 and 20 inductees from the Class of 1995 were then honored at the induction ceremony. This week I will name and congratulate the National Honor Society inductees from the Class of '95. Next week, or shortly thereafter, I will do the same for the Class of '96.

Congratulations to: Dusko Babin, Gretchen Baird, Amber

Boodey, Melissa Dean, Nichole Defer, Josh Fleming, Amanda Foster, Jamie Gaa, Victoria Gaffrig, Sharon Gorsline, Amy Holbo, Andrea Kuhn, Katherine Lutgen, Britt McCallum, Rashida Rihman, Elizabeth Shehorn, Allison Studer, Jill Thompson, Heidi Wirtz and Jonathan Zora.

Is it winter?

A I sat writing this particular tidbit, we are still experiencing an extremely mild winter. Although they say colder weather is just around the corner. As usual, we went up to our Eagle River home the week between Christmas and New Year's.

In the past, we have been met with about 1 1/2 feet of snow on our upper and lower decks. We were shocked to see both decks totally snow free and only about 1 1/2 inches of snow covering the lawn. The snowmobile trails were down to dirt, and needless to say no one was doing any riding.

We decided to come back early and celebrate the arrival of the new year in Antioch. Upon our Dec. 30 arrival home, we saw about 300 or more Canadian geese grazing on the front lawn of a neighbor's Lake Marie home.

Why were geese still in our area on Dec. 30? Had the warm weather delayed their departure to fly south, or had the warm weather brought them back earlier than expected? Isn't the normal migration time frame of these beautiful birds October/November, when they start their southern journey, with their return trip north usually taking place around March/April? Yet, there they were, en masse, on Dec. 30, producing a magnificent, out-of-season view. Thanks, Mother Nature, it was a special welcome home.

Misprint

Sorry, there was a misprint in one of my tidbits in the Jan. 6 column. I do not have Edelman "Palsy." Instead, I have two Edelman "PALs"—namely Laura No. 1 and Robert No. 2. I may not have "palsy," but I assure you I had a good laugh over the misprint.

Share Food, save money

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Share Food program is gearing up for an exciting new year. The program, open to anyone, is a great help in keeping the cost of groceries down.

The program works this way. For $14.50 per order and a donation of two hours of community service, members receive $35 to $40 worth of groceries a month. "You can order as many as you like," explains Claudette Skvarce, one of the program administrators.

Each package will include frozen meats, fresh vegetables, fresh fruit, and canned goods. Foods in the package are geared towards a healthy diet. "The food is low-fat and low cholesterol," said Skvarce. "We always have four meat items along with vegetables and fruit."

In order to participate for the month of February, money must be turned in by Feb. 9. The food can be picked up on Feb. 25 at the Antioch VFW between 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. Money can be dropped off at the State Bank of the Lakes in Antioch, First National Bank of Antioch, or at the Lake Villa Township Office.

A monthly schedule is available, however, there will be no packages during June, July and August. The January pick-up day will be Jan. 28. For more information call 395-2761 or 395-6744.

Daddy/daughter date night is a very important event

On Saturday, Feb. 11, Antioch Parks Dist. hosts its annual Daddy/Daughter Date Night. It's held at the Antioch Upper Grade School from 7 until 9 p.m. This is the single-most important event in my daughter's life.

Several years ago, I heard about this Daddy/Daughter Dance and suggested my husband take our seven-year-old daughter. He was agreeable (although a bit hesitant), so we decided to make a real event of it. We bought a new fancy dress for her, a corsage, and he made plans to take her to dinner before the dance. She looked beautiful that night. She was very excited at the thought of her "date" with Dad. We took pictures and off they went.

Later that evening two people that I barely recognized came through my front door. They were sweaty and their clothes were very rumpled. It was hard to recognize them as my daughter and husband, who just hours ago left in immaculate condition. "I had the BEST time of my life!" said my daughter. My husband was thrilled with how the evening went. He couldn't wait to tell me about every little detail.

First of all, there was a great turn-out of dads and daughters. Some dads brought all their daughters (he saw a couple of dads with five daughters!). Everybody was nicely dressed. Initially, some dads were a bit self-conscious, but the d.j. was great at "breaking the ice," and soon had everybody dancing and getting involved in different games.

Refreshments were served and a photo was taken of each "couple" to capture their evening. The reason my husband and daughter were so rumpled and sweaty was not due to an over-zealous heating system, but rather due to their exuberant activity on the dance floor. He told me that he was twirling her about, tossing her into the air, and rocking and rolling with the best of them (this is my conservative husband we are talking about). It turned out that my daughter became a dance maniac on the dance floor and must have seen the movie "Dirty Dancing" too often. But soon most dads were twirling their daughters and having a wonderful time.

The cost for this evening is minimal. Ten dollars per couple, with a $3 charge per additional daughter. Tickets can be purchased through Antioch's village hall, but are not available at the door. This evening represents a wonderful chance for fathers and daughters to spend a memorable evening together.

This year's dance will be my daughter's third year attending. Months ago we started shopping for the perfect dress (my daughter thinks the fancier the dress, the better). She's already chosen her restaurant of choice, and is eagerly waiting for Feb. 11 to come.

My husband, on the other hand, has realized that she's grown quite a bit in the past year and worries that he might not be able to lift her as high, but he's still looking forward to the evening. (I'm expecting a lot of groaning the next day from aching muscles.)

Mark your calendars now, and start talking to your husband about attending. You'll find Dad the Jock, Dad the Businessman, and Dad the Tradesman all in attendance. All the dads have one thing in common—enjoying a great evening with their daughters. My only regret is that I can't peek in to share their fun, but moms aren't allowed. Hopefully, Antioch will devise a mother/son evening, too.

Sladek wins Scout's highest honor

Jonathan Sladek, a member of Antioch's Troop 92 Boy Scouts of America, received the Eagle award in a Court of Honor ceremony conducted at Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 525, the troop's sponsor. Sladek entered Cub Scouts in 1984 in Bergen, N.Y., and advanced to Webelos and Boy Scouts there. Since joining Troop 92 in 1991, Sladek has earned 31 merit badges and has served in several leadership positions including senior patrol leader and junior assistant Scoutmaster. Among his eight special awards and activities are the Order of the Arrow Ordeal, Junior Leadership Training, World Conservation Patch, Wood Duck Patch, two 50 Miler Afloat patches, and the 1993 Galena Trek. For his Eagle project, Sladek supervised the restoration of prairie grass by the Wilmot Rd. entrance to Chain O' Lakes State Park. He and the 12 Scouts he supervised spent a total of 64 man-hours removing hundreds of yards of fence posts, barbed wire and shrubbery near the entrance.

The invocation for the court of honor was conducted by Barbara Zima. Master of ceremonies Harold Clark introduced the guests and Senior Patrol Leader James Dalgaard led the presentation of colors. Scoutmaster Dave Edwards called the Eagle Court and verified the credentials of the candidate with the assistance of several Eagle Scouts in attendance. Subsequently, Asst. Scoutmaster Dick Weston conducted the Lighting of the Eagle Trail candle ceremony. Speakers William Geyer, John Ruffin and Tim Doesmagen extended their congratulations to Sladek and spoke of the value of Scouting for individual growth and citizenship.

After Jack Niccolai, special guest speaker and Salem Elementary School music teacher, complimented Sladek on his achievements, teacher and student performed two lively trumpet duets for the audience. Former Scoutmaster Ray Landrum read the Challenge and Charge to Eagle Scouts.

Representing the Boy Scouts of America was Sr. Dist. Exec. Tim Doesmagen, who presented the Eagle Award to Sladek. In turn, Eagle Scout Sladek presented pins to his proud parents, Drs. John and Celia Sladek.

In his response to the award, Sladek expressed gratitude to all who helped him achieve the award, and he encouraged younger Scouts to continue working for their Eagle.

In the Scoutmaster's Minute, Landrum cited examples of Sladek's Scouting spirit. Sladek is a student at the Univ. of Ill. in Champaign where he majors in architecture and plays in the concert and basketball bands."

LowDoc program simplifies loan process

Once looked upon as a test of endurance for many small business owners and would-be's, the application for a small business loan has new vitality with the advent of the U.S. Small Business Administration's new LowDoc program, a simplified application process.

In the past, most applicants found the application paper intensive and the approval process lengthy. No so today.

Ask Donald and Jane Neville, residents of Antioch and owners of the Neville-Sargent Gallery in downtown Libertyville.

The Nevilles, with gallery experience in Chicago and Evanston, moved into larger quarters and were soon awarded the Beauty Spot of the Month by the Keep Libertyville Beautiful Commission.

With an already stunning array of fine antiques, furniture, functional art, a conservative frame shop, art exhibits and tapestries, the Nevilles were planning to expand their inventory in the spacious new gallery.

State Bank of the Lakes, Antioch, commercial lending division, proposed the new LowDoc program to the Nevilles. With the assistance of vice-president James Kinney and assistant vice-president Beverly Terry, the Neville's expansion is well underway.

The State Bank has announced that several new businesses plan to be onboard with LowDoc by mid-1995.

Potential small business applicants may want to inquire about the announcement of a Small Business Seminar, by invitation, for March 15 at the Grayslake location, 500 Commerce Dr.

Crane named to U.S. delegation on trade agreements

Eighth Dist. Congressman Philip M. Crane was named by House Speaker Newt Gingrich to the U.S. delegation for international conference meetings and negotiation sessions on trade agreements. The appointment follows its recommendation to the speaker by the Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, Congressman Bill Archer of Texas.

Crane is chairman of the Trade Subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee. Also named to the U.S. delegation by Speaker Gingrich were Chairman Archer and Congressman Bill Thomas of California, Sam Gibbons of Florida and Charles Rangel of New York.

Chairman Archer pointed out that since the Ways and Means Committee determines trade policy for this country and ultimately for the world, this is an important appointment as there must be input from the committee with the executive branch's representatives handling the negotiations.

Crane served on the delegation in the 102nd and 103rd Congresses, and played an important role in the NAFTA and GATT treaties.

Geo-Karis says senate vote helps seniors use exemption

State Sen. Adeline J. Geo-Karis (R-Zion) says that hundreds more senior citizens will now be able to take advantage of the Senior Citizens Tax Freeze Homestead Exemption following a vote in the General Assembly to extend the application deadline for the program.

Both chambers approved Senate Bill 33 to extend the deadline for the 1994 tax year from Dec. 1, 1994, to Feb. 15, 1995. The measure is expected to be signed by the governor.

"This bill is designed to assist seniors in keeping their homes," Sen. Geo-Karis said. "In the past, ever-rising property taxes forced many seniors out of their homes. This legislation is designed to relieve some of our senior citizens' tax burden."

The program freezes the assessed value of primary residences that are owned and occupied by senior citizens with household incomes of $35,000 or less. The value is frozen at either the 1993 assessment level or the year they turn 65.

"Because this bill was passed in December, it left little time for seniors to apply for the exemption," said Sen. Geo-Karis. "By extending the application deadline, we are making this exemption to many more seniors."

In the future, the deadline for application will be July 1 of each year.

Host families sought for exchange

Local families are needed to host Japanese exchange students, ages 12 to 18, for four weeks this summer as part of a two-way exchange program sponsored by 4-H. The Japanese teenagers will stay with their host families from the middle of July to mid-August. A meeting to explain the program to interested families is planned for Feb. 28 at 7 p.m. at the Urban 4-H office.

The program is open to families living in Lake County with children close in age to the Japanese participant. Families without children in the age range will be considered as hosts for the adult chaperones from Japan. You don't have to be involved with 4-H to host; you just need a willingness to share your home and your world. There is no need to know Japanese—the students have all studied English and are anxious to use it.

"The program gives host families a chance to share their culture, friendship and family life with an exchange student and at the same time learn about Japanese life," said Susie Soukup, extension educator and Lake Co. coordinator. "The homestays only last a month during the summer vacation, but the effects last a lifetime."

Host applications and brochures about the program are available through 4-H, at the Urban 4-H office, 2619 Martin Luther King Dr., No. 201, North Chicago, IL 60064; 688-0001.

Yorkhouse extension foes continue fight*STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Yorkhouse Road extension project may appear to be a "done deal," but that does not mean there will not be chances for foes to state their case.

Old Mill Creek Village Board members heard from Sharon Zingle of Citizens for a Better Lake County. The group opposes the extension of Yorkhouse Road from Chicago Ave. to Route 41.

"CBC is an awareness group interested in the reasonable use of land so developers and taxpayers will all benefit equitably," Zingle said.

The group objects to the three-quarter mile extension due to the precedent of what the CBC sees as taking land purchased for Forest Preserve purposes, the $12 million spent on the road to date and the impact on wetlands.

Lake County Board approved the land swap with the Forest Preserve for easements. The county is waiting on word from the Department of Interior.

Zingle, of Wadsworth, recalls how she got involved in the Yorkhouse-debate.

"I was at one of the Lake County Division of Transportation meetings and they had an aerial photograph showing there were no homes along Yorkhouse Road. It was three or four years old. They were not being honest. People used to looking at a row of oak trees will be looking at the side of an embankment," she said.

CBC members, some 50 strong, will be attending meetings from Antioch to Green Oaks to Barrington to state their case in the coming weeks.

"We are getting support from throughout the county," she said.

According to CBC and the county highway division, there would be no federal or state grants.

"Traffic patterns in this area show greatest volume traveling north to south. As far as east-west patterns are concerned, Lake County traffic studies show by the year 2010 Wadsworth Road will still be far below the point it would need widening. If Yorkhouse Road was extended, studies show it would only eliminate 3,000 cars per day from Wadsworth Road. It makes more sense to spend our highway dollars on more pressing problems in this area, such as those on Delaney Road," the CBC stated.

Goals of the extension are: maintain rural roads, provide public access, facilitate emergency access, create aesthetic design, minimize wetland and floodplain impacts and preserve natural habitat. According to the preliminary engineering study, the extension has been part of long-term planning for 30 years.

"The fact of the matter is the county board has yet to provide a single legitimate reason to justify going ahead with building of Yorkhouse extension," the CBC stated.

For those wishing to join the CBC, call 1-800-NOROAD9.

Recovery of sleds a frigid feat

After a snowmobiler went under the ice Jan. 8 on Lake Catherine in Antioch Township, Splash for Cash Recovery came to the rescue. With his new $1,600 drysuit, Willie Frazee dove into the frigid temps and located the 1987 Artic Cougar. The recovery team was able to find the sled after others had searched, but couldn't. The operator of the snowmobile was saved by Antioch Rescue. From left is Tom Sterling, Steve Hofflander, and Frazee.

these accidents," said Trebel, who became emotional after showing the group two video tapes of train-car accidents, "... stopping whistles is not the answer."

From the Illinois Commerce Commission (ICC), Bernie Morris told the group with the exception of two train crossings in Antioch, Wisconsin Central has been excused from blowing the whistles. The crossings at Grimm Road and the unprotected crossing at Lake Shore are mandatory sites.

While the railroad is excused from blowing the whistle at the other sites, Wisconsin Central's policy is to toot their horns at all crossings. And, the question facing the Antioch Village Board is whether or not they have the jurisdiction to stop them.

"We cannot take care of it at the village level," said Mayor Marilyn Shineflug. "We just don't see how legally we have the authority."

The village even obtained an outside legal opinion regarding the matter. In the opinion of attorney Robert Smith of Seyfarth, Shaw, Fairweather and Geraldson, the village does not have the authority to regulate trains.

Some of the members of the audience, as well as Lake Villa Mayor Frank Loffredo and Grayslake Mayor Pat Carey indicated they had a problem with specific engineers excessive blasting horns. "Some of the problem seems to be with individual operators," said Loffredo. "Some of them stay on the whistle." Loffredo said some engineers stay on the whistle from "Trevor to Lake Villa."

In the case of Antioch, this is especially true since the rail crossings are within 1/4 mile of each other and Wisconsin Central begins whistle blowing within 1/4 mile of a crossing. "Based on the 1/4 mile rule, you would be on the road until Grass Lake Road," said Trustee Don Amundsen.

Carey told the group, "The Village of Grayslake does not intend to pass an ordinance to stop whistle blowing." However, the village board had sent a letter to the railroad about the problem of excessive whistle blowing.

Trebel admitted some engineers blow the horns longer than others. He explained those engineers who have been involved in accidents have a tendency to blow more often. He spoke of an accident involving two teenagers and the engineer driving that train, "I can assure you he (the engineer) blows his whistle longer."

Later on in the meeting, residents hotly retorted, "If you have an engineer that had a traumatic experience, assign him to the day shift. He can blow his horn all day long."

Tempers began to flare during the lengthy meeting and residents began to lose their tempers. However, not all attending were against the train whistles. Lillian Golonka, who lives on Lake Shore Drive, wants the whistles to continue, particularly because there are no safety signals on the crossing near her home.

Morris also spoke of the upcoming federal regulations as a result of the Swift Rail Development Act of 1994. He believes the regulations will be even stricter than state law, which excuses whistle blowing.

In the end, it seemed as though everyone left unsatisfied. Trebel did agree to work together with the municipalities to "get some relief."

Judge rules for unit school vote

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The courtroom was packed with supporters from Millburn in their bid to overturn State School Superintendent Joseph Spagnolo's decision to allow the Lake Villa Unit School District question to be addressed by voters. Unfortunately for Millburn, Judge Stephen Walter ruled in favor of Spagnolo and the Committee of Ten, thereby allowing the issue to go to the ballot.

"The court enters judgment on behalf of the defendants," said Walter. He ruled that Spagnolo's decision was based upon matters within the record and the law was correctly applied.

Millburn School District had appealed Spagnolo's decision, which had reversed the decision of Regional Superintendent Edward Gonwa, who had rejected the district plan because of the impact on Millburn. The thrust of Millburn's argument, made by James Bakk, the school's attorney, was the failure of Spagnolo to base the decision on the best interests of each individual school affected by the unit district plan.

"This is going to devastate Millburn School District," said Bakk. "He (Spagnolo) is going outside and beyond the record in front of him."

Dave Leibowitz, attorney for the Committee of Ten, disagreed. Leibowitz argued Spagnolo used a balancing test, looking at the best interests of all, not each individual school district. "Millburn is trying to read an overly strict interpretation of the statute," said Leibowitz. "The word all does not appear in the statute. Nothing is a perfect plan."

Also present for the proceedings was an attorney from the State's Attorney's Office for Gonwa and Paul Phillips representing Lindenhurst Mayor Paul Baumunk. Phillips presented a petition from Lindenhurst in support of placing the issue on the ballot.

"I may disagree with Superintendent Spagnolo's decision," said Walter. "But, the decision of the superintendent indicates he utilized and applied the correct standards."

Sand Lake signals may arrive in '95

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Signals at the Sand Lake Road intersection are becoming closer to reality after a second meeting at the Lindenhurst Village Hall.

Illinois Department of Transportation, the County Board and Lindenhurst officials met last Monday to discuss how to finance road improvements that will lead to signals at the intersection.

Les Sweica of IDOT said his agency is willing to provide the temporary signals and pay the cost of the north leg of the intersection up to $90,000. Dusty Powell of Lake County Division of Transportation said the County would pay $40,000 for the project.

The goal for all parties involved at the meeting is to have temporary signals installed by the fall of 1995.

Others involved in the local section of the project will have to pay for the engineering of the intersection and some of the cost to the south leg of the project.

So far, only the village of Lindenhurst and Westfield Homes, which is developing Heritage Trail on Grass Lake Road and Fawn Run on Sand Lake Road, have committed to paying for a portion of the improvements.

IDOT won't install the temporary signals until left turn lanes are created on both the north and south sides of Rte. 45.

IDOT officials said if the turn lanes aren't installed there would be a potential for more accidents. IDOT is willing to pay for the north leg because it will be part of the Rte. 45 improvement expected to begin in 1997, according to Sweica.

Powell said the cost of construction is estimated at about $150,000 to $170,000.

The cost of preliminary engineering and design is estimated at $20,000.

Powell said it would be much quicker for the village to finance the engineering than the county or the state.

"We are committed to our projects. We would be willing to be flexible if you would pick up the cost of engineering," Powell said to Mayor Paul Baumunk.

Baumunk said the village is willing to pick up a portion of the costs it already considered at $15,000. He said the board must make the ultimate decision on how much it can afford.

"It is worth it," said Trustee Carol Zerba.

Many village residents travel Sand Lake Road daily. There have been four deaths at the intersection in the last two years.

"A lot of people use Sand Lake Road every day. I work at Abbott and I use Sand Lake Road to avoid Grand Avenue and all the lights at Gurnee Mills," said resident Donald Banick who attended the meeting.

Somehow Lindenhurst, Westfield Homes, Madison Realty and the village of Old Mill Creek must come up with about $45,000 to make the project go.

Madison Realty has sent a letter to Robert Depke, County Board chairman, objecting to being asked to spend a portion for the lights.

The letter indicated the development is south of the intersection and would have no impact on this intersection.

"We object to the Village of Lindenhurst asking us to pay for road improvements not resulting in any way, shape or form from the development of Deerpath Subdivision," said Ronald Galowich, chairman of Madison Realty in the letter.

Baumunk suggested Lindenhurst and Westfield finance a portion of the construction costs and have Madison Realty and Old Mill Creek finance the engineering costs.

Lindenhurst Village Board will consider the issue at the Feb. 3 meeting if information from the county is provided by Jan. 27.

Vote

Osmond pointed out two Millburn Board members filed for the unit district board. They are Board President Gene Gracey and Malena Schroeder.

Gonwa said the unit district is on the April ballot at this time. He said an appeal by Millburn can stop the issue from the ballot but he is unsure of how long Millburn has to appeal the administrative review.

If the issue makes the ballot, three issues are to be decided. One of them is a vote to determine if there should be a unit district. Also, voters would decide if they want to approve a $39 million building bond for a new high school and elementary building. Voters would choose a school board to represent them.

Voters in all the impacted districts will vote on the unit district. However, the building bond and the school board vote would be determined by people living within the proposed district.

Lake Villa Elementary District voters would vote on all three issues. Antioch High School residents and Millburn residents would vote on the unit issue. Only the ones in the affected district would vote for the two other issues, according to Gonwa.

Who will vote in the Grant, Grayslake and Antioch Elementary Districts is yet to be determined.

Six people have filed to be on unit district school board. They are Osmond, Joyce Heneberry, vice chairwoman of the Committee of Ten, Paul Hoetzer, Donald Mertic, Gracey and Schroeder.

Lake County Superintendent Bill Thompson is working with affected school districts on the division of assets issue. All the school districts must give a portion of the district's assets in proportion to the number of students in the district who would attend the unit district.

Study

County Board Member Judy Martini, who was also on hand for the meeting, suggested the possibility of a non-binding referendum if sewers are a possibility. The idea was endorsed by Skvarce.

"We have had non-binding referendums before," said Skvarce. However, all agreed discussing financing and a referendum were premature. "First, we have to have a study," said Kufalk.

"I think it is a good idea," said Trustee Tim Osmond. Fields agreed. "The need is there," said Fields. "I support the study."

Round Lake's stamina proves valuable weapon vs. Grant

The upper deck of the bleachers had to be opened, and high school basketball fans who made the trip to Round Lake Friday certainly received more than their money's worth in excitement.

The Panthers won their third straight game at home with a 55-52 overtime verdict over rival Grant. The Panthers improved to 3-5 in the Northwest Suburban Conference, with four of the league losses due to a teachers strike. Round Lake then downed Jacobs 64-56 for a 6-10 overall record.

"It was a typical Round Lake - Grant game. When was the last time we had to pull out the upper deck?" RL Coach Ron Sapochak said. He reminded Grant Coach Tom Maple he played against his Bulldog team.

Mike Allen scored 16 points and had 14 rebounds as well as all-out hustle. It was his steal which prevented one of three Grant chances to win in regulation.

"I thought it was to our advantage when it went to overtime," Sapochak said. "Our goal is to be the stronger team at the end and we executed better," Sapochak said.

"We run lots of up and down the court at practice. It helps our stamina," Allen said.

Allen snuck in for good position for many of his 14 rebounds. "It is just boxing out," he said.

Allen said the large home crowd helps. "The crowd really helps us get going well," he said.

Christa Garza got a start for the Panthers due to the team missing two regulars and he responded with 10 points. Bill Zibell had 11.

"He does not look like a basketball player, but he can wear you down like Charles Barkley," Sapochak said.

Round Lake is at Marian Central Jan. 20 for a 7 p.m. league clash. Grant hosts Johnsburg.

Grant was seeking to stay on top of the NWSC with a win and received 14 points from Mike Nelson and 12 from Brian Mikels. Nelson was held to one second-half field goal. Grant's league record slipped to 5-2, 7-9 overall.

Neither team could hold more than a 4-point lead in the first half as the two teams were tied at 24 at intermission. Round Lake led 42-36 after three quarters.

Allen started the Panthers off on the right foot in the overtime for a 48-46 lead.

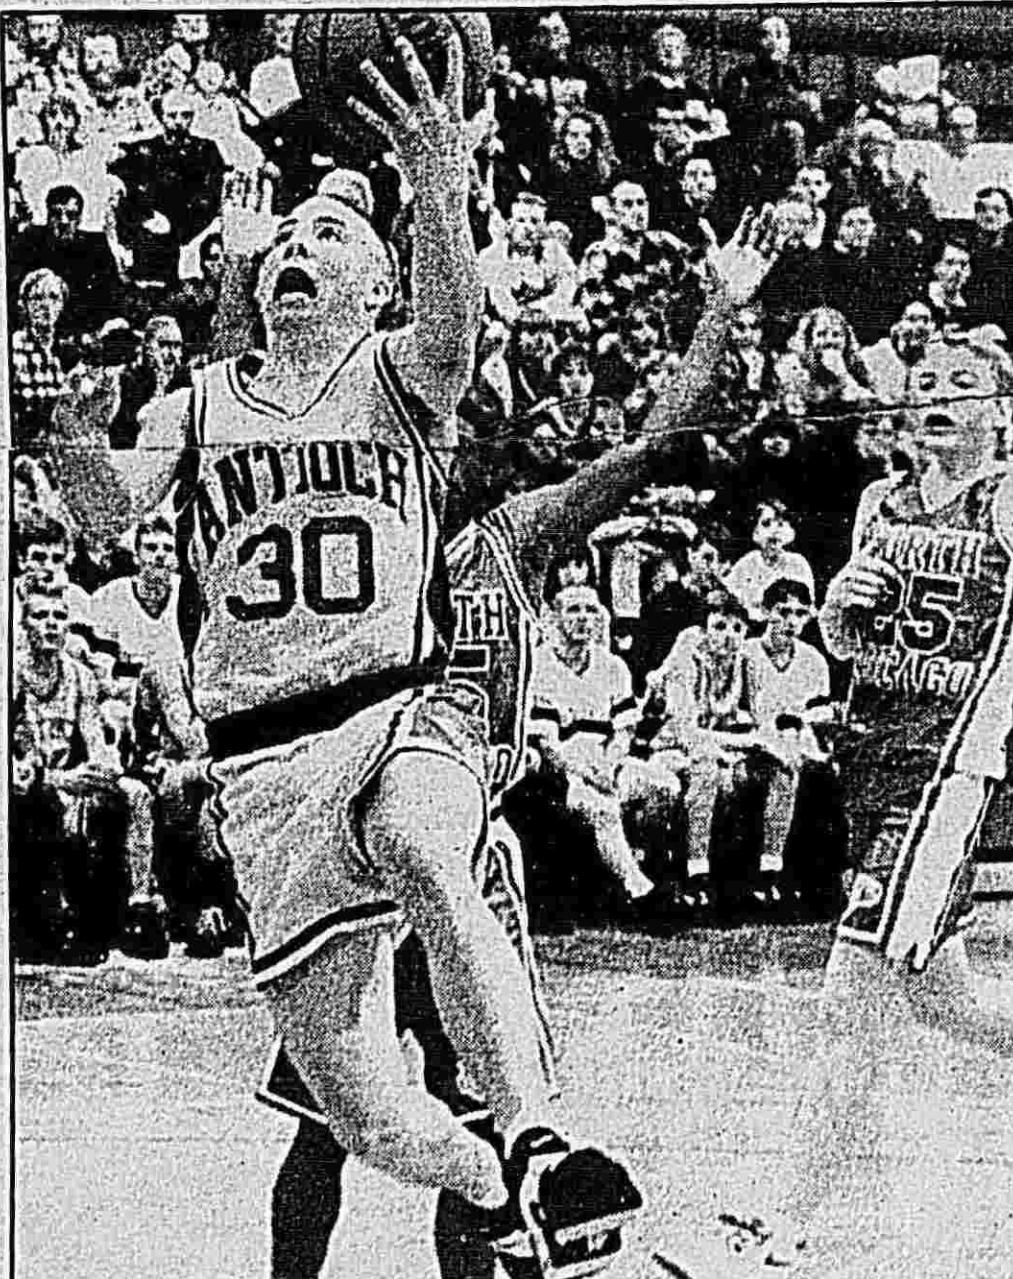

He then added a free throw and Zibell scored on a lob pass for a 51-47 lead.

The lead grew to 55-47 as Garza tipped home a missed shot.

Grant's lone field goal of the overtime was a three-pointer by Jason Loring (9 points).

"We had three chances to win it in regulation," Grant coach Tom Maple sighed.

Against Jacobs, Ray Muelemann had 14 points and Allen 13. Graza added 9. A 21-10 second quarter run was the key for the Panthers.

ACHS girls gain momentum

Antioch High gained many positives in girls basketball last week.

The Sequoits beat Zion-Benton 49-34; earned a .500 overall record and a top eight seed in the post-season sectional tournament for a first-round home game.

"To host a regional tourney game is exciting. We have a long ways to go, but we have come a long way in two years," Coach Dave Woods said.

Antioch is the fifth seed in the sectional, Feb. 13 or 14. The top eight seeds: Stevenson, Libertyville, Warren, Carmel, Antioch, Waukegan, Zion-Benton and Deerfield.

"It was a real good game, especially from the defense," Woods said of the win over Zion.

Antioch faces a stiff challenge when it is at Warren for a 7 p.m. clash Jan. 25. The two teams started the week tied for third place in the North Suburban Conference at 6-2.

Antioch, using double teams and rotations, made Julie Gryszkiewicz earn all of her 12 points for Zion.

"We also shot free throws well, 17-30 with 12 of 16 in the fourth quarter," Woods said.

Rachel Hauser led Antioch with 12 points, 8-for-10 from the free throw line; Lyndsay Hladnik had 10 points; Dana Pierson had 9 points and 4 rebounds and Mary Ipsen had 8 points and 5 rebounds.

"We kept them off the boards well," Woods said.

The game was a slow start, with Antioch leading 4-1 after eight minutes. "Each quarter we outscored them a little more," Woods said.

The lead grew to 17-11 at half-time and 31-21 after three periods.

Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser blamed a mental breakdown in the remaining minutes as the reason for Antioch's "disappointing" loss to Stevenson.

After coming off a 68-54 victory the night before against North Chicago, the Sequoits were eager to string together two consecutive conference wins, but a bus-ing error caused visiting Stevenson to be 30 minutes late for the game.

Following the 72-67 loss, the Sequoits now wish Stevenson's bus had never arrived.

"I'm very disappointed, we should have beat this team," Dresser said. "Give Stevenson credit. They made us play their style of basketball."

Eric Eckenstahler began the game swinging away as he batted down five shots in the first quarter. Kid brother Kevin Eckenstahler sparked the Sequoits with six first-quarter points. But Stevenson held on to a 14-13 lead after the first eight minutes.

Adam Becker tied the game at 19 with a three-pointer. Stevenson's Tyler Hawkins (19 points) stepped up for the Patriots as his nine second-quarter points extended the lead to 33-29 at intermission.

The Patriots have been playing without starting point guard Ryan Keller and backup guard Sam Graves.

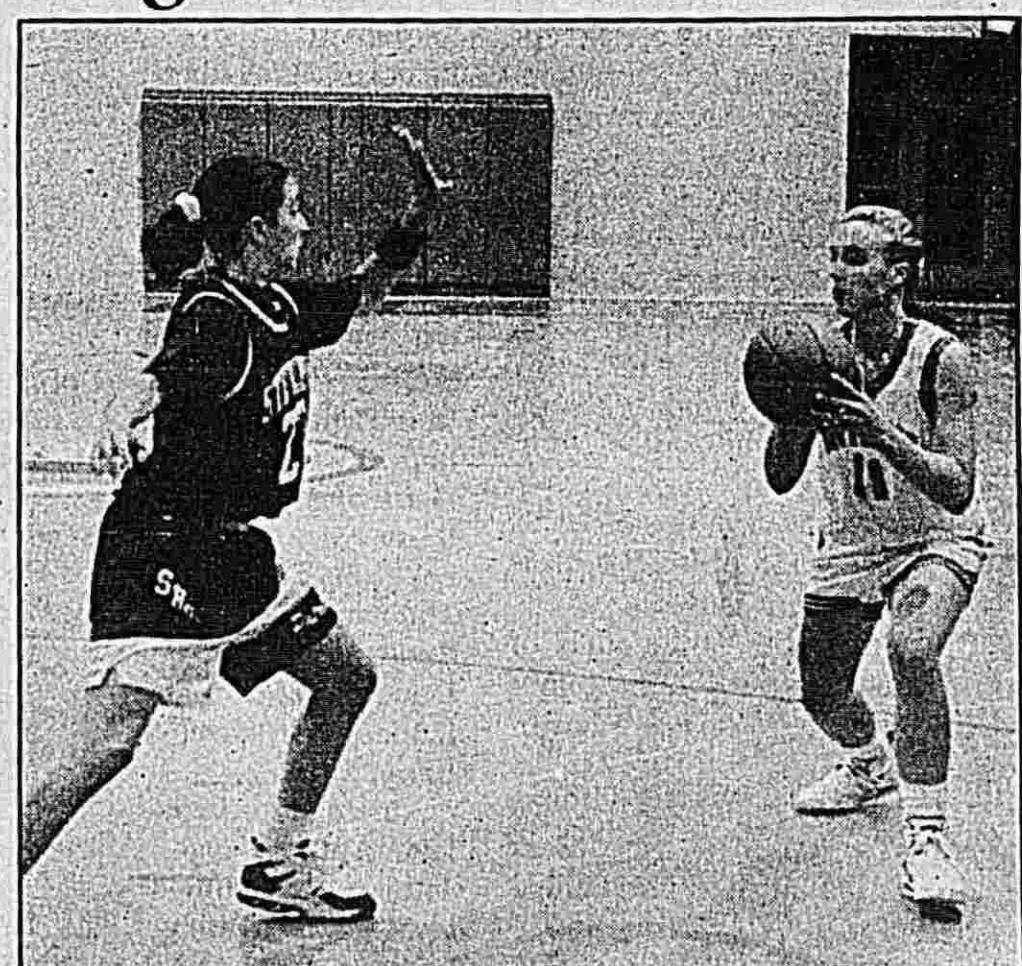

"We've had so many guys out, so we're playing a lot of other guys who are beginning to develop their talent and starting to get confidence," said Stevenson Coach Ken Johnson.

One of those players who has enjoyed more playing time is Paul Stavnes (7 points). He gave Stevenson four quick points to begin the second half.

Following another block by Eric Eckenstahler (22 points), Kevin Eckenstahler tied the game at 39 at the 4:25 mark in the third quarter. Minutes later, Eric Eckenstahler gave the Sequoits their first lead when he converted on a three-point play. Dave Lawrence (7 points) increased the lead to 50-45 with 5 seconds left in the third.

Stavnes then came from out of nowhere and launched a 25-foot bomb to cut the Antioch lead to 50-48 at the third-quarter buzzer.

Mendralla looks to further goals, Rams wins in stretch

STEVE PETERSON

Dave Mendralla started the year on a mission for the Grayslake Rams.

Part I of that mission is now complete: gain 300 points and break a 24-year school scoring record.

Now comes part II with hopefully a part III. Help the team defend the Northwest Suburban Conference title and then gain one more step in the playoffs: beat Mundelein or another Lake County final four team and gain a sectional title tilt.

Mendralla scored his record-setting point in a loss to Round Lake the week before. He was presented a basketball enclosed in a glass case, a memory of that 1,435th point on a tray which found nothing but net.

"I knew I was only 3 points away but I wanted to just let it happen," Mendralla said.

Mendralla took more rest than usual in the 69-56 win over Johnsburg as he was suffering from a form of pneumonia. He still managed 28 points, above his season average. His three-pointer to close the first half upped the lead to 15 and he then scored 13 third quarter points. The win gave the league leading Rams a 6-1 Northwest Suburban Conference record and 12-4 overall.

"It is just conditioning. I have to pick it up because there is less of a chance to rest," Mendralla said.

Mendralla is determined to keep improving his game. He extended his three-point range this year. "Last year, we were all guards. This year, we have more of an inside-out attack," he said.

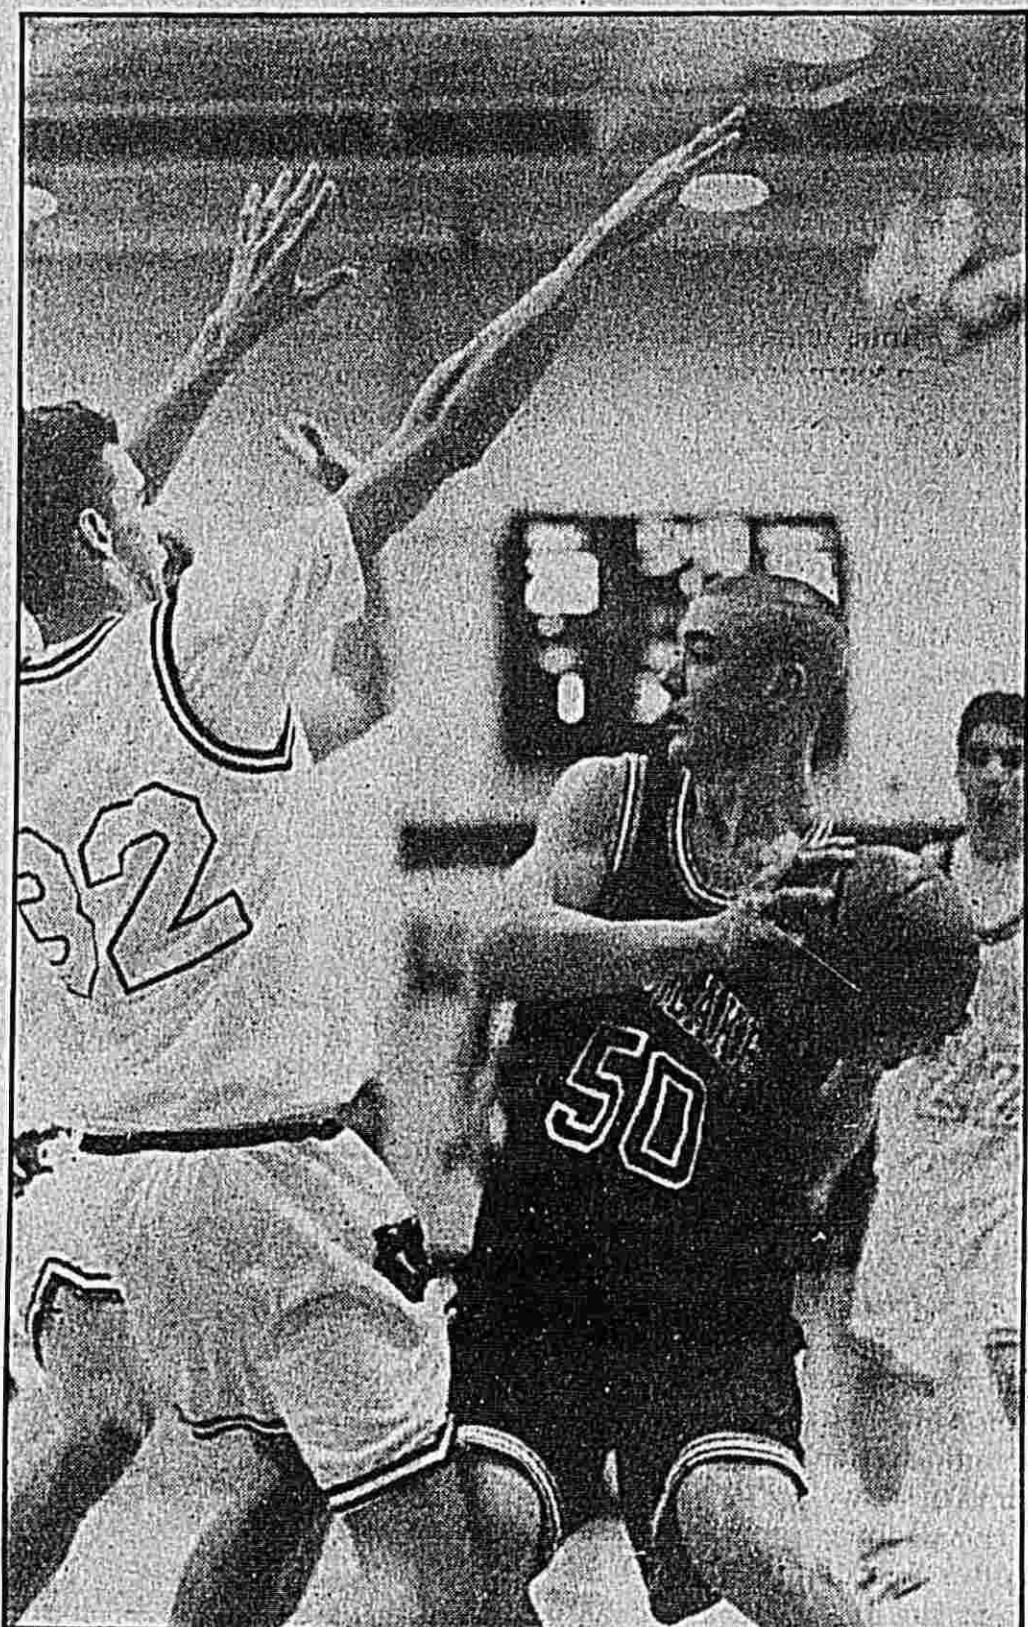

That was evident against the Skyhawks. John Parr had 16 points and Brian Fischer had 10 points and 12 rebounds.

Groth praised the play of Brian Witt, who earned his first start. Pete Neuberger stopped Miller.

That inside-out game leaves opponents in the NWSC going back to the blackboard. "You just hope to slow him down. We would use six players if they would let us," Wauconda Coach Don Pieper said.

The Bulldogs get their chance when they visit Grayslake at 7 p.m. Jan. 20. Johnsburg (4-3, 7-6) is at former co-leader Grant.

"The biggest thing about Dave is he is a leader. He raises the level of everyone he plays with," Rams Coach Greg Groth said.

Word of Mendralla's talents began to circulate around Grayslake when he was an eighth grader at Grayslake Middle School. The middle school team took a 50-plus game win streak into a battle with Woodland three years ago.

Greg Cohen was coaching Woodland then and assigned Warren High-bound Chris Hayes to Mendralla. Woodland won, ending the streak.

Cohen is an assistant with the Rams. "I am sure glad to have Dave on our team,"

Mendralla presented the latest trophy to his grandfather, Fred, a one-time baseball player. "I have a lot of support from my family," Dave said.

And don't look now, but there is another Mendralla, Laura making her mark at Grayslake Middle School. She, too, is a point guard.

"It runs in the family. I think she will have a good chance to start on varsity next year," Dave said.

Rams grapplers look for momentum

Grayslake High's wrestling team went up against the best in preparation for a key Northwest Suburban Conference showdown.

The Rams lost to Oak Park, Lane Tech and Dundee-Crown in Carpentersville Saturday before Tuesday's clash with Johnsburg.

"Oak Park kids wrestle all summer and it is just a different style with a lot of throwing. Dundee-Crown is always tough," Coach Eric Skoog said.

The Rams fell to Dundee-Crown 49-20. Gaining three wins were the Rams leaders, Ed Pak at 152 and Joe Kerns at 145.

Against the home team, Kerns won by a pin over Ray Brown in 1:04 and Pak won by an 18-3 decision.

Jason Cherwa gained a win for Grayslake at 119 with a 5-4 decision over Adam Hawks.

Skoog was watching some of the up-and coming Rams gain a top five finish at the Warren freshmen meet.

Lukas Day won at 135; Vince Correa was third at 140; Chris Roberts 2d at 152 and Vince Chebny 2d at 95.

"Everyone we took won a match," Skoog said.

The varsity takes an 8-7 record to Lake Forest Jan. 21 for battles with the host Scouts and Prospect. The underclassmen will be at the Marian Central sophomore tourney.

Then it is on to getting set for the conference meet at Grant on Jan. 28.

Wrestlers garner key loop meet

Antioch's wrestling team came into two meets with Waukegan and Warren Township High with a banged-up lineup.

But instead of succumbing to having wrestlers out of their normal weight class, the Sequoits gained two victories as they head into the final matches before post-season tournaments.

"It was very crucial. Warren is tough to beat, especially at the upper and middle weights. Everybody had a level of tension and rose to it," Antioch Coach Ted Scieckowski said. "It was a fun meet. There was a lot of positioning."

"Antioch won all the close matches," Warren Coach Mark Tiffany said.

The decision was not clearly in Antioch's favor until Brian Maicke downed Bill Bigger in a close 4-3 match at 171 pounds.

Maicke, a senior, earns the honor of most improved Sequoit. "He had an average record last year, but this year he is winning 70 percent of his matches," Scieckowski said. "We have had him all over the place (in terms of weight class)."

Seniors led the way from Justin Dyer at 112 pounds to Maicke.

Scott Grasser at 103 and Dyer at 112 both won by pin. Matt Hlinak downed Jason Dennis 14-4 at 125; Steve Zalopi edged Steve Brzykcy 4-3 at 130 and James Patterson downed Brian Roffle 5-3 at 135 before Warren earned its first win.

Mike Ray, who went 3-0 at Lake Zurich in a quad the next day, won on a technical fall over Mike Burian in 5:50. Rod Dukowitz earned a Warren win at 145 and Kevin Hammer, Josh Van Heirseele and heavyweight Drew Sabor were Warren winners.

Jim Stevens, whom Scieckowski described as a steady wrestler, won at 152 over Kevin Oldham.

Antioch earned a 34-30 win over Waukegan the next day. Greg Laube's win at 160 gave the Sequoits a big enough lead to withstand Waukegan's dominance of upper weights. Patterson and Stevens won by pins.

"I am sure the complexion of both teams will change when regional comes," the coach said.

Antioch hosts Grant and Marist Jan. 21 at 10 a.m. after taking a 5-1 North Suburban Conference record to a Jan. 21 home meet against Zion-Benton.

Warren, 4-2 NSC, is at Fenton Jan. 20 in league competition. The Blue Devils host Niles West and Geneva Jan. 21.

Ray, Dukowitz, Oldham and Sabor all posted three wins as Warren competed at Lake Zurich Saturday. Dave Swiula at 103, Dukowitz and Sabor earned pins against the Bears.

Warren tied the host Bears 32-32, beat Rolling Meadows 31-22 and Elgin Larkin 56-13.

Warren is 12-3-1 overall.

"I was disappointed with a couple of places where we could have picked up the point to win," Tiffany said of the Lake Zurich tie.

"There were a lot of positives as we get ready for the conference tournament and regional meet," Tiffany said.

Zion hosts the conference meet Jan. 28.

Shooting woes costly for ACHS hopes

Illness and an aggressive Lake Forest squad proved to be trouble for Antioch High's girls basketball team Tuesday.

The Sequoits lost 38-26 in a North Suburban Conference game. The loss dropped Antioch to fourth place in the NSC as Warren was beating Mundelein.

"Lake Forest played a decent game, but we shot terribly," Coach Dave Woods said. "As I told the team after the game, Lake Forest did not beat you, you beat yourselves."

The defensive statistics favored an Antioch win as the team had 12 steals and forced 16 turnovers off the press. "But we only converted for 4 points," Woods said.

The game was close for three and one-half quarters. Lake Forest led 17-15 at halftime.

"They hit the first 8 points of the second half and we missed lay-ups," Woods said.

Antioch, 8-9 overall, was led by Erin O'Connell had 10 points.

Leading scorer Rachel Hauser was ill and only had one basket. "She did not practice and played only a little and others were ill, too. If we had Rachel, she would have been able to loosen up their zone," Woods said.

Mara Mordini led the Scouts with 14 points.

"Teams used to come to Antioch thinking they would have a sure win. Now they come hoping to knock off the fifth seed (sectional tourney)," Woods said.

JHS grapplers dominate Rams in key meet

Grayslake wrestling coach Eric Skoog had a plan going in against Northwest Suburban Conference leader Johnsburg.

Knowing Johnsburg had strong wrestlers in the upper weights, Skoog shifted the weight classes of his best wrestlers down one but that was not enough in a 46-12 defeat Tuesday.

"I knew it would be a battle and everything I planned they played right into," Skoog said.

But that did not result in wins, as Johnsburg won each weight class through 135.

Winners for Grayslake were

Ed Kerns at 140 with a pin over Johnsburg standout Mike Kochan in 2:56 ad Ed Park, who downed Justin Norris 10-7. Justin Wood earned a 9-3 win at 171 pounds over Chris Colosimo.

Johnsburg's Eric Doersman at 103 pinned Vince Chebny in 4:27; Rand Vandegna earned a major decision over Chris Cherwa, 14-2, at 112; Josh Kehl downed Jason Cherwa 11-4 at 119; Joe Dodge edged Nick Day in what Skoog described as a key match 9-6 at 125 and Mike Cohn pinned C.J. Hardford in 55 seconds at 130 and Ted Voigt earned a 15-8 win over Lukas Day at 135.

Chip Jensen of Grayslake took Dave Olsen of Johnsburg to overtime before losing 13-8 at 145.

Brian Nelson won by decision at 160 over Pat Eldridge of Grayslake and Jason Guida won by pin at 189.

The changes in weight classes did bring a negative impact for some Rams.

"The first time at a weight class, conditioning tends to fail early. We are usually at our best in the third period, but we did not have any extra energy," Skoog said.

LOSS

for most of the fourth, with both teams exchanging two-point leads until Antioch's Eric Campbell (9 points) dribbled through the lane through traffic and gave Antioch a 62-60 advantage with 3 minutes left to play.

That's when Antioch's mental game broke down.

The Sequoit defense had left Stevenson standout Peter Ferguson (28 points) wide open for back-to-back three-point shots. He eliminated Antioch's lead and gave Stevenson a 66-62 lead at the 2-minute mark.

"I think the turning point for us was the fourth quarter," Johnson said. "We re-gained our mental composure."

It was just the opposite for Antioch.

"There is no way he (Ferguson) should have been open for those threes," Dresser said. "We can't have those mental lapses. I know we're going to make mistakes. Hustle mistakes are different, but I don't want them to make mental mistakes."

Campbell ended the scoring with a meaningless three-pointer at the buzzer. Antioch (2-6, 8-8) will be seeking to avenge undefeated Zion-Benton Saturday.

"We've got eight games coming up that we're going to have to make a come-around," Dresser said.

Former Agency director wants his old chair back

The first of several Fox Waterway Agency candidates have stepped forward.

Roy Gundelach has been seen around town getting petitions signed for a chance at becoming director for the Agency.

Gundelach was on the board of the Waterway Agency from its inception. He stayed on it for eight years, and left two years ago, when he lost out in the election.

He said the main reason was because he didn't campaign, didn't put up signs.

But he's back, and he's vying for the chair of Ron Baker, newly appointed director who came from the Advisory Committee.

Gundelach knows this will be an interesting race. "He (Baker) has his people out there, and I have my people out there and we'll be going to town," said the candidate.

Gundelach is focusing on the dredging/raking issues. He said he helped the Agency with input in obtaining the giant amphibious backhoe and rake which was used to clean up a large number of channels and waterways.

Squaw Creek was one of the filthiest, where literally everything including a bath tub were hauled out. Gundelach said he feels under the current administration there could be improvement as far as the backhoe is concerned.

The candidate said he feels the backhoe could be used a lot more, in fact about six days a week when the temperature is not below freezing, provided there's manpower to operate it.

"I want to keep the machines moving," he said.

Gundelach is the owner of Custom Canvas on Rte. 59 in Ingleside, and has been a resident of Fox Lake for 46 years.

In April, one person will take title to the Lake County side of directors, and two will win McHenry seats on the board.

Reports say there are a couple people running for the Lake County position, and about four for George Thompson and Karl Woerner's seats.

It is not yet known if Woerner or Thompson will vie for director.—by TINA SWIECH

Restaurateur proof American dream exists

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

Life was a challenge for Abel Bonilla, growing up on a farm in the mountains of Central Mexico. He and his family worked hard to make ends meet. It was impossible to think times could be harder than, when he was 11 years old, his mother died.

"My father was sick for two years after that. I had to take care of my two younger brothers, who were only 5 and 3 years old," the Abel's Restaurant owner recalls.

He remembers doing everything by hand, with no one else to help. Even the tortilla shells, a staple of the family diet, had to be prepared each day. From that experience grew a desire to use his hard work to make a better life for himself.

His father eventually remarried during his teen years and Bonilla took the opportunity to move to Mexico City, nine hours away, where he worked in a door and window screen factory for two years. Bonilla continued to work hard, yet he was destined never to make progress in life at the factory. It was then he first began hearing of America, but the talk was not about government programs or leisure living—it was about success.

"I heard if you work hard in America, you can accomplish almost anything. With all my hard work in the Mexican factory, I would go nowhere," he said.

Now 42 and a United States citizen, Bonilla emigrated 20 years ago and began working in the restaurant business. He was again at the bottom rung as a dishwasher in Niles, but something had changed.

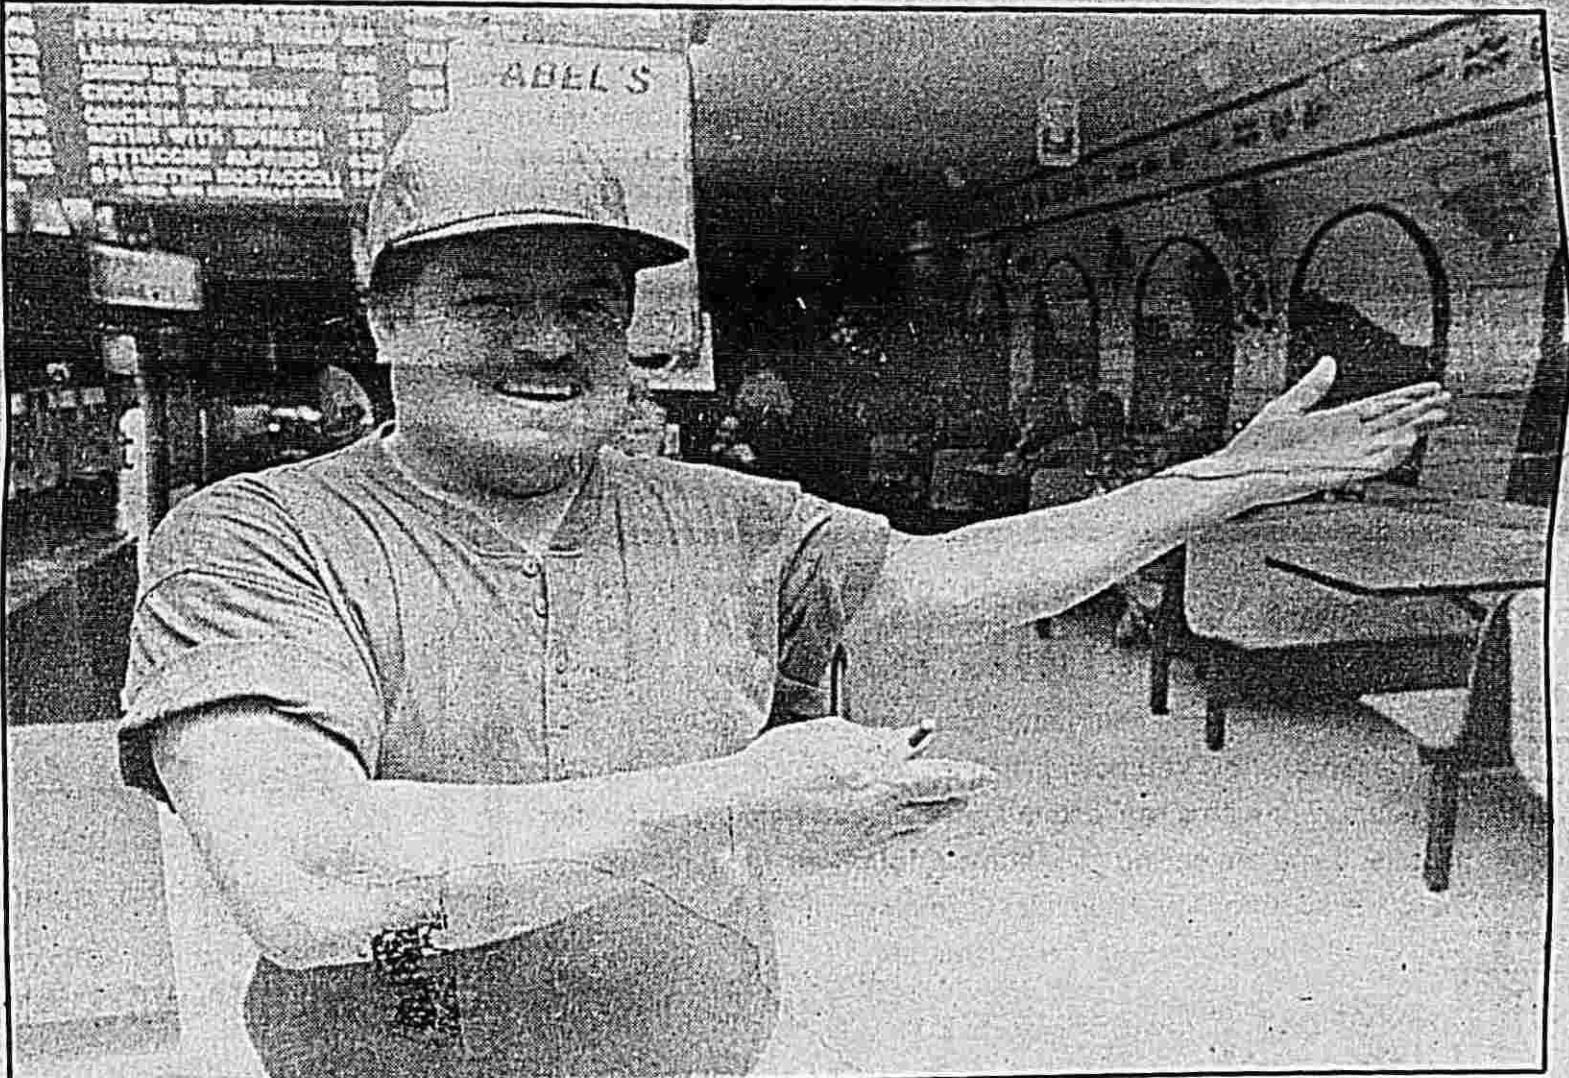

"I knew then I would open a restaurant someday," he said.

As he slowly climbed the restaurant ladder he continued to dream and to save money. He moved up to cook in Mt. Prospect, then eventually to a chef's position for six years at Slice of Chicago in Palatine. Stops along the way included restaurants in Schaumburg and one on restaurant row in Beverly Hills, Calif.

rent out of me," Bonilla said.

The landlord also wanted five stools in the bar instead of the planned nine. Frustrated but still considering opening the business, Bonilla scanned into the newspaper and discovered a vacancy at 217 Center St. in Grayslake. He decided to visit the business

His dream finally looked like a reality when he began to open a small bar/restaurant in Arlington Heights. But with a last minute twist of fate, his dream would be postponed.

"I had all my permits, but just before opening the landlord tried to squeeze more location and downtown Grayslake and immediately had a change of mind.

"I saw it and said 'this is the place for me,'" he said.

Consultant helps cut business expense

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

Many small business owners are constantly searching for ways to cut cost.

KS Associates is an Island Lake-based company dedicated to overhead expense reduction. Specifically the company examines 13 different areas of a small business to conclude what is being paid for services and products, then contrasts it to what should be paid for those same items.

"Small businesses don't often have people who can take time to compare vendors. If they do, that person generally does not have the expertise or the knowledge of the market place to find and negotiate the best price," says Ken Kasarski, expense reduction analyst and owner of the firm.

Kasarski uses his 18 years of background and expertise in operations, purchasing and consulting to examine a business' outflow of money in specific categories to determine where money is essentially being wasted. Those categories range from overnight mail and shipping to janitorial and uniform services.

Kasarski says most people don't know service and goods are negotiable, or even how to negotiate. Part of the key is the individual needs to know the vendor marketplace and most small companies logically don't have someone dedicated to that task.

"I am basically a free employee to them," he said.

Kasarski was referring to his pay scale. In the first year, he takes half of the savings he is able to find. After that, the client receives the savings themselves. Since the money Kasarski is paid with comes from budgeted money he is retrieving, his cost is essentially nothing. There is no upfront fee. If he finds nothing to save the customer money, he receives no pay. However, he says his success rate for helping people is very high.

"Sometimes we find there is no need for a change, but that is rare. There aren't too many times when we can't find something," he said.

North Chicago VAMC sponsors Federal Women's Luncheon

The North Chicago Veterans Affairs Medical Center hosted its 11th Annual Federal Women's Program Scholarship Luncheon. Guest speaker was M. Jeanne Dolphus-Cotton, PH.D., author of the book, "Getting It Together: A Journey Into You." Dr. Dolphus-Cotton spoke on this year's theme, "Imagine The Dream; Make The Dream A Reality."

"The event is in honor of scholarship recipients at the medical center," says Helen Bates, manager of the Federal Women's Program at North Chicago VAMC. This year the $1,000 scholarship recipients were Darlene Griffin and Cheri Cox, both from Zion. The women were selected because of their outstanding efforts to further their education. Both are pursuing advanced degrees in the business field.

Proceeds from the luncheon are placed in the scholarship fund which is used to assist staff of the North Chicago VAMC pursue educational goals.

standard American dishes such as fresh made-to-order sandwiches and salads. His Mexican pizza gets raves as the specialty of the house, and customers appreciate the 5-mile free delivery radius. His business is continuing to grow as the population grows. Though things are difficult at times now, he expects to be firmly entrenched in the community as build-out continues.

"I could never be happier than to have a restaurant in beautiful Grayslake. I've met nothing but great people here," he said.

Among his list of accomplishments, Bonilla includes marrying his American wife, Judy, who is mother to their three children, ages 7 to 12. Judy is deaf but he credits her with working very hard behind the scenes in the business as well as taking care of the children at their home in Arlington Heights. She decorated the restaurant including painting the murals on the walls.

Abel also maintains a separate apartment downtown in Grayslake to be near the business when it is required. Most of his day is devoted to making a successful operation. He hopes to move his family to Grayslake someday but with one mortgage already that plan will take some time. He says he wants his kids to be able to get on their bikes and come visit him at work.

Though he claims incredible happiness and satisfaction, it is no surprise to discover he is not resting on his laurels. He owns additional land elsewhere in Lake County where he intends to open a second restaurant. That will require even more sacrifice but as he said 'no one said it would be easy.' The important thing to him is he embraced the American dream and sees it working.

"I truly believe you can accomplish nearly everything. I can prove it. I am so proud of my beautiful country," he said.

In the class, expectant parents will learn what happens during the labor and delivery experience. Parents who anticipate delivery of their baby by Cesarean section will learn about that procedure also. Each class session includes time for instructors to answer questions from the expectant parents. Upon completion of the class, a certificate will be awarded which allows the support person to be present during the baby's birth with approval of the attending doctor.

Caregivers also need time for themselves

Caring for an older adult at home can be an energy absorbing experience. Sometimes, a break in the routine is revitalizing, both for the caregiver and the person being cared for. That's where respite care comes in.

Respite care gets its name because it gives the person providing daily care a "respite" or break from those responsibilities. In north Lake County, these services are provided by the Victory Adult Day Center, 2000 Western Avenue, Waukegan. Enrolling a person who requires daily attention and care in the center's respite program allows the caregiver to take an afternoon off to run errands, see the doctor or "recharge batteries". The Victory Adult Day Center provides respite care as needed or on a regular schedule for full day, half-day or hourly sessions.

The center provides a variety of activities specifically designed for the older adult. Since the Victory Adult Day Center is located in the Lake County Family YMCA building, the clients often use the Y's pool, gym and other facilities to enhance activities. At the center, older adults enjoy the companionship of people their own age in a comfortable, caring atmosphere. There is even a special bath program to assist people who may have difficulty bathing in standard tubs and showers. The specially trained adult day care staff is available to handle personal and physical needs of their clients, including dispensing medications. Adults attending the center, often use the PACE bus service for transportation.

For more information on respite care, call Pearl Watts, manager of the center, at 360-9860.

Hospice offers special seminar

The public is invited to learn more about hospice care when Hospice of the North Shore hosts Community Conversations at the Community Senior Center located at 135 West Church St. in Libertyville. This event will take place on Wednesday, Feb. 1, at 10 a.m. The special topic to be covered at the meeting will be "Living Will and Power of Attorney for Health Care." Free blood pressure screening will also be offered.

Community Conversations is an informal discussion about the hospice team approach to the care of a person with a terminal illness. It is held on the first Wednesday of every month to give the public the chance to ask questions about hospice care.

Hospice of the North Shore is a division of Palliative Care Center of the North Shore, a community-based, not-for-profit health-care organization with offices in Evanston at 2821 Central St. and in Lake County at 118 W. Lake St. in Libertyville.

Speaking to a child about death and dying

Second in a two-part series.

Death is a part of life and children's questions about death arise when mortality becomes a reality through the death of a loved one, a friend, or a pet. The child is hurt, confused, angry, and filled with questions about what it means to die. Experts agree that children's questions should be answered honestly and directly so the child may begin the process of grief and recovery. Differing ages, comprehension levels, and personalities of children should be taken into consideration when speaking with a child about death.

Q: What are the ways to help children cope with death?

A. According to Glenna Waxler, RN, MA, HNI bereavement coordinator, there are many ways to help children of all ages cope with death. Some suggestions of ways to help follow:

It is important to allow children to express their feelings. Feelings that may include denial, anger, guilt, and sorrow are expressed in differing ways. It is very helpful for child to understand that she does not need to be sad all of the time, that it is perfectly acceptable for her to be sad at one moment while thinking about the person or pet who died, then happy the next, perhaps while playing with a friend.

A child may at times want to discuss the death, and may at times seem to be oblivious to the fact of the death. Bringing up this topic regularly will not speed the mourning or recovery process. The child will let you know when she is ready and able to talk about the loss.

Gear your answers according to the personality of the child, as well as her age and level of understanding. Children, as adults, are all different from one another, and while one child may want to know each detail of the circumstances of the death of a loved one, it may be painful for another child to know any of the details.

One of the most important ways to help a child at the time of the loss of a loved one is to be a good listener. This is also a very difficult time for a grieving parent or friend to share in the child's sorrow, but children need someone to talk to who is non-judgmental, caring and consistent.

Children want structure in their lives and consistency is needed. Structure and consistency foster feelings of safety.

Q: Are there any children's grief support groups?

A. The Hospice of Northeastern Illinois started Kids' Group, a grief support group for children ages 6 to 10, in October 1993. More than 25 children from the HNI service area have participated in the group that meets once a week for six weeks. Waxler and Michelle Borkowicz, MSW, facilitators of the support group, encourage children to express their feelings and thoughts through verbal, artistic and physical activities.

"Art is an amazing way to allow a child to express his or her feelings," emphasizes Waxler. "From the color of the paper chosen, the theme of the drawing and the expressions on people's faces, each child is able to express a wide range of emotions," she adds.

Q: Are there special challenges that teenagers face when experiencing grief?

A. Teenagers are often called the "forgotten mourners." At a time of their lives when they are struggling to find independence, while still dependent on their families, teens are often left to their own, usually inadequate, means of grieving. Teenagers are generally very self-conscious and aware of how others perceive them, yet, in a group of their peers, seem to open up and express their feelings.

Teens participating in grief support groups have shown an almost instinctive idea of what it means to grieve, how to express it and how to comfort those around them. Teens have a way of forming a support group in which to insulate themselves and each other from the pain of loss.

The Hospice of Northeastern Illinois is responding to the needs of these "forgotten mourners" throughout the communities served by offering a teen support group which will begin this summer.

For dates and times of future Kids' Group for children ages 6 to 10, and teen bereavement support groups for teens from the ages of 11 to 17, call 381-5599.

Help for sex abuse victims

Victims of childhood sexual abuse are often affected by their experiences long after the abuse has stopped. Victory Memorial Hospital's Mental Health Services Department is helping women who are survivors of childhood sexual abuse regain their lives through a new therapy group.

The "Women's Issues Group" focuses on common feelings experienced by adult women who underwent sexual abuse as children. Through the use of both verbal and expressive therapies, the group gets at the underlying issues triggering many of the problems survivors face today as a result of what happened to them years ago. At the same time, the group therapy provides support and validation to participants.

Victory's "Women's Issues Group" is a 12-week series of therapy sessions which meets at the hospital, 1324 North Sheridan Road, Waukegan. For the participant's convenience, sessions are offered both in the morning and the evening. The group is led by a specially trained team of mental health professionals which includes a licensed clinical social worker and a masters-prepared art therapist or a mental health counselor.

For information on referral to the "Women's Issues Group" call Patty Redpath, LCSW at 360-4078 or Victory's confidential 24-hour Mental Health Crisis Line at 360-4082.

Hospital laboratory receives accreditation

The Laboratory at Consolidated Medical Laboratories at Lake Forest and Highland Park Hospitals, has been awarded a two-year accreditation by the Commission of Laboratory Accreditation of the College of American Pathologists (CAP), based on results of a recent on-site inspection.

Dr. Thomas Sonek, medical director of the laboratory, was advised of the national recognition and congratulated for the "excellence of services being provided." The laboratories operated by Consolidated Medical Laboratories at Lake Forest and Highland Park Hospitals are among the more than 4,200 CAP-accredited laboratories nationwide.

The CAP Laboratory Accreditation Program, begun in the early 1960s, is recognized by the federal government as being equal to or more stringent than the government's own inspection program.

Inspectors examined the records and quality control of the laboratory at Consolidated

Medical Laboratories for the preceding two years, as well as the education and qualifications of the staff, the adequacy of the facilities, the equipment, laboratory safety and laboratory management, to determine how well the laboratory is serving the patient.

LFH shows safety begins at home

Your child ingests some "pretty green liquid" dishwashing detergent. Your husband decides that today is the perfect day to clean out the gutters. The next sound you hear is his cry for help as he lays flat on his back from falling off a ladder. Do you know what to do medically in either situation?

Safety in the home means more than outlet covers and a first aid kit. It's a fact: most accidents happen in and around the place we live. But how can unnecessary accidents be avoided?

Lake Forest Hospital wants to keep you and your family safe. "Safety in the Home" will be presented on Wednesday, Feb. 8 at 7 p.m. in the Conference Center at Lake Forest Hospital. Join Sharon Hopkins, RN, Emergency Medical Services trauma coordinator, as she explains common categories of injuries, how to prevent them and what type of first aid to provide should an accident occur. Some of the highlights of this informative program will be childproofing your home and safety for seniors. Major potential threats, such as fire and carbon monoxide, will also be addressed.

To learn more about making your home safer, and to reserve a seat for this free program on Feb. 8, call 234-6112.

Volunteer awards

Feurer, president of EHS Good Shepherd Hospital, congratulates Dorothy Hogg of Barrington Hills after she was presented with the Illinois Hospital Association leadership award during the 71st annual IHA meeting. Hogg is president-elect of the auxiliary of EHS Good Shepherd and has been a volunteer at the hospital's Pear Tree Cafe for four years.

Now is the Time... To Make a Difference

Recently, a report came across my desk entitled "The Nation's Number One Health Problem— Key Indicators for Policy". The report was prepared by the Institute for Health Policy at Brandeis University and funded by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation. The report is filled with statistics that demonstrate the cost and impact of substance abuse on our nation. The data is alarming and should impress policy makers, media and the nation as a whole to mobilize against substance abuse and the violence associated with its use and abuse. Note the following:

- In the U.S. there are a half million substance abuse deaths yearly.

- Every man, women and child in America pays nearly $1,000 annually to cover the costs of unnecessary health care, extra law enforcement, auto accidents, crime and lost productivity resulting from substance abuse.

- By age 18, more than 1 in 5 American children have used drugs.

- An estimated 1.7 million American teenagers need drug abuse treatment.

I am reminded that Mark Twain once said there are three kinds of lies: "Lies, damn lies and statistics." Not always true, Mr. Twain. What makes a statistic appear to be a lie is the numbing effect. When we say to policy makers that 1.7 million American teenagers need drug abuse treatment, it can sound so terribly numbing that it distorts reality. It just seems overwhelming. Yet, many have seen the teenager's face that wanted but could not afford or could not receive treatment.

In reviewing data recently with an area reporter seeking information about people's fear of violence, she said to me "Excuse me, you don't understand, this story is not about drugs, it is about violence." I responded to that statement by arguing, "I do understand, but what you and others are not communicating is that alcohol and other drugs are fundamentally at the root of violence and crime within our country. You do an injustice to the truth when you attempt to separate these issues." She politely thanked me and informed me that if she needed more information she would call back.

Partners in the Lake County FIGHTING BACK Project are involved in the partnership because they believe individuals can make a difference. If we are to capture the attention of policy makers, media and the nation with the message of the ravages associated with substance abuse, we must take the data that often appears numbing and put a human face to it.

How many more young people will we lose before our nation's attention turns to solving this issue? Be it drug-free schools, treatment or prevention, this nation cannot afford to walk away from this challenge. We can solve this problem if we decide to solve it. Now is the time to insist that your congressional and state legislative delegations provide leadership. Now is the time that you should mobilize your neighborhoods and schools to save one child at a time. Quickly 1.7 million teenagers needing treatment becomes 1,699,999 and then 1,699,998, etc. Community partnerships are what this nation is about. We are the nation, and we represent millions of individuals who can effect change if armed with the necessary information and will to produce change.

If you would like to see other issues addressed, or have questions or comments, please call the FIGHTING BACK office at (708) 546-7144.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: I have just graduated from high school and would like to attend college in the fall. While I am currently employed for the summer, the only way that I would be able to afford college would be if I would continue to work while attending school. Can you please suggest any programs that would allow me to earn credits while employed? R.G.

A: Dear R.G. You are not alone. I speak with many people in your position. There are hundreds of colleges throughout the United States that offer what is called Cooperative Education which enables you to attend classes and work. There is a group called the National Commission for Cooperative Education which offers a free directory of colleges in the U.S. with such programs. You may write to the National Commission, Dept. WD, 360 Huntington Ave., Boston, MS 02115. I give you a lot of credit for wanting to further your education any way you can. Hope this helps.

Q: I am very confused about the outcome of a recent interview I had. I spent the better part of three hours with what I hoped was to be my new employer. Prior to the interview, I spent hours at the library researching both the company and the industry they were in. The owner showed me around the company and showed me certain departments for which I would have been directly involved if hired. Afterward we sat in his office and talked further. I proceeded to tell him that I felt he could save a lot of time and money by changing his inventory tracking system to one that my former employer used and thereby reducing his payroll by two people in doing so. The interview ended abruptly with a handshake and I was told, "We'll be in touch". A few days have passed and I contacted the company and asked to speak with the Owner only to have his secretary pick up to inform me the position was filled. Did I go overboard? A.W.

A: Sounds as if you sank. From the sound of your letter everything seemed to be going well until you started to give advice as to how he could better run his own company. In essence he may have felt that you were trying to tell him that he was not running his company efficiently. No one wants to hear that, especially from an outsider who he interprets as knowing "zippo" about his business. Next time around take things a bit slower. Save your great ideas until after the position is yours. Once you are on the inside and have a true picture of how the operation works, it will be more acceptable to have a "team player" offer suggestions, than for an outsider to offer solutions before the problems may be recognized. Dry yourself off and try again. Good luck.

SUNSET

The 2492 square foot Sunset is a two story home ideally suited to empty nesters and families with teen or college age children.

The lower level, which may be closed off when not in use, can house older children that desire a certain amount of privacy, or serve as an apartment for elderly parents. This arrangement allows space for everyone, while still sharing the family setting. Two good-sized bedrooms are available on this level. Each has plenty of closet space, with windows on two sides. They share a full bathroom and linen storage. A large family room dominates this floor. Put in a big screen television and a ping-pong table for hours of fun. A covered patio is nearby for use in warmer weather. A huge utility room, with washer/dryer, fold down ironing board, and built-in sewing table complete the lower level.

Take the stairs up to the main floor and view a master suite that is sure to please. Along with a roomy sleeping area, the master suite amenities include a large bay window, spacious walk-in closet, private bathroom and two separate vanities. Another half-bath is in the adjacent hallway.

The vaulted, walk-through kitchen is the focal point of the main floor. A cooktop, located in the middle of the kitchen, allows meals to be prepared with ease and served formally in the vaulted dining room, or for a more casual atmosphere use the eating bar or the vaulted breakfast nook. A walk-in pantry holds all your canned goods.

Family and friends can gather for pleasant conversation in the vaulted living room. Here the corner woodstove keeps everyone warm and cozy. A large covered deck is easily accessible for those enjoying the out-of-doors.

Along with the two-car garage, there is eighty-four square feet of extra storage space handy in the attic.

For a study kit of the SUNSET (402-13), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

Fox Lake Cheerleader performs at Orange Bowl

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

While most college football fans watched the college bowl extravaganza from their family rooms, Claire Kruizinga can say she was actually on the field during the Orange Bowl. No, she was not a member of the Nebraska or Miami University football teams.

Kruizinga was selected as a member of the "Just for Kix National All-Star Drill Team" and performed at half-time during the 1995 Federal Express Orange Bowl game in Miami.

The 14-year-old Fox Lake native is a freshman at Marian Central High School in Woodstock, where she is a member of the pom-pom squad. She graduated from St. Bede Grade School.

"I was stunned. I still couldn't believe that I was there, but I really didn't get nervous," Kruizinga said. "It was a great experience, and I had a lot of fun."

In front of ESPN staff members, a packed stadium and millions of college bowl viewers, Kruizinga performed a jazz routine at half-time.

"It was a pretty simple routine," Kruizinga said. "I tuned everybody out and I thought of being in a room by myself while I was out there."

Before being chosen with other select performers from across the country, Kruizinga attended a pom-pom summer camp sponsored by Minnesota-based "Just for Kix." She learned the Orange Bowl routine via a video tape sent by Just for Kix organizers.

In addition, Kruizinga continues to take weekly dance lessons at the Dance Connection in Grayslake and is a performer in the Spot Lights Dance Company.

The trip was made possible through the financial help of various local businesses and individuals. Kruizinga's mother, Marion, wanted to thank all those who contributed to the effort.

Assisting in the trip were: Bob Misiek, a State Farm Insurance agent; Fox Lake Animal Hospital; the Moulis family, owners of Fox Lake Harbor; Kenneth Hamsher, Fox Lake mayor; Watts Marina; Person Auto; Jerry's Parkway; Bill Klein of Prudential; Raymond Chevrolet of Fox Lake; Leonard Dam; the Golden Dragon Restaurant; and Carquest.

"Without them, it would have been hard to go down there. I probably wouldn't have been able to go. I really do appreciate that they helped me out," said a thankful Kruizinga. Her advice to young, aspiring pom-pom cheerleaders: "Try out for anything. Even though you think you can't make it, you might."

Carmel finds winning ways

A key defensive switch and just enough from the free-throw line allowed the Carmel boys basketball team to end an 8-game losing streak.

The Corsairs pulled out a 55-51 home win over Holy Cross. The win gives Carmel a 2-12 overall record, 2-3 East Suburban Catholic Conference.

Junior Mike Malone scored 16 points, including two clutch free throws which kept the lead. Bill Kotch had 13 for the winners in a game whose biggest margin was 6 points.

"We switched defenses from a man-to-man to a trapping zone," Carmel Coach Ben Berg said.

"Malone and Kotch give us two other possible scorers. We need two guys besides Erick Ames to step up and score 12-16 points a game for us to be successful," Berg said.

The three-pointer was a big weapon for the home team. Carmel made 8. "We ran some special plays off staggered screens and double screens," Berg said.

Manny Trillo returned to the Carmel lineup after suffering a knee injury earlier this year.

Carmel has some tough tests ahead, at Marist in ESCC play Jan. 20 and at Hoffman Estates Jan. 21 in non-conference action.

Preparation, motivation keys in Patriots' girls victory

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

It was a well-prepared Stevenson High girls basketball team which ventured to DePaul University's Alumni Hall to battle the nation's top-ranked team from Pickerington, Ohio.

"We had some tape on them. I give assistant Coach Tom Kelly a lot of credit. Tom did a lot of the work I usually do and we had a well-prepared game plan," Stevenson Coach Frank Mattucci said.

He was reflecting a couple of days after the 52-44 overtime win and its significance had a chance to sink in.

Preparation was indeed a key factor as Tauja Catchings and some talented teammates made a bid for the USA Today's top ranking.

"We looked at the Antioch (a 59-9 win) and Mundelein (a 78-25 win) games as getting ready for Saturday. We also had some of the younger male teachers play against us and that helped," the coach said.

Stevenson improved to 19-1 overall in the game which Mattucci described as two prize fighters duking it out. Defense and hard-work showed off as the Tigers were held scoreless in the overtime while Tauja soared to a 24-point game. Tamika Catchings had 13 points and Katie Coleman had 11.

"This is a very hard-working group of girls. To their credit, we held them down. Three things would be key: blocking out at the defensive end and not allowing second or third shots; if you give up a turnover do not sulk but hustle back on defense and no easy transition baskets," he said.

The Patriots had to rally from an 8-point second half deficit.

Tauja, inspired in a timeout as were the rest of the Pats, came up with big play after big play. She had a steal in the waning seconds of regulation and on another play had the presence of mind to knock the ball off a Pinckerton player and Stevenson retained possession. Her free throw with two minutes left in overtime gave the Pats a 10-point lead.

"Tauja is a player. We all know what she can do. Her shots were not falling for her, but in the fourth quarter I challenged her to take control of the game. We needed Katie to keep shooting, Christie Miller to keep the ball to the Catchings, Coleman to keep showing and Rebekah Ford to keep playing defense," Mattucci said.

Harlan finds himself right at home in leading UIC

A neighborhood rival and league momentum were on the line.

And Shawn Harlan contributed in both victories as University of Illinois-Chicago downed Northern Illinois 80-71 and Butler 100-82.

"They are so close to us, it is a big rivalry," Harlan said of NIU.

Harlan, of Mundelein, came into the weekend averaging 10.7 points and 6.7 rebounds a game for the Flames, which improved to 8-5, 2-1 Mid-Continent Conference.

"For us to be successful, myself and Sherrill Ford (25 points, 8 rebounds) have to be successful," Harlan acknowledged.

It was not always that way for Harlan as he prepped at Mundelein High.

"My sophomore year, I was shooting outside as a guard but my role changed and I had to play center my senior year," Harlan said.

Harlan originally attended Northeastern University. He transferred to UIC after suffering a wrist injury which still can be felt if he falls the wrong way.

The 6-foot, 8-inch junior has made quite an impact, according to Flames Coach Bob Hallberg.

and Ford.

"Shawn has done a great job rebounding," Ford said.

"Shawn is so unselfish. He does not get flustered and gets the ball to the right people," Hallberg said.

The Saturday win over Butler made it eight of nine. "We have our next three games at home and could be 5-1 in conference," Harlan said.

The two teams, playing before 3,018 fans at Chick Evans Field House at Northern Illinois, battled to a 31-31 halftime tie.

"We went to higher percentage shots," Harlan said.

A trey by Harlan helped send the Flames off on a run which would lead to an 11-point, 56-45 cushion on another three by Mike Simmons (23 points).

Ford was of course, impressive as the Flames became the first team to beat NIU in DeKalb and the first team to score 80 points on the 12-2 Huskies.

"Ford can shoot the ball with five guys on him. We came in here looking to gain some momentum and try and win them all. Simmons did a good job of controlling the trap. I think we are coming together," Hallberg said. See HARLAN page C20

Foresters' games proving to be nail biters, edge Beloit

Two important Midwest Conference North Division games were decided by buzzer-beating shots.

Lake Forest College dodged the bullet against Beloit 66-63, but was not as fortunate against Lawrence, falling 65-63. The split gave the Foresters an 8-4 overall record, 1-2 in Midwest Conference action before three home games this week. LFC hosts Coe at 7 p.m. Jan. 20 before hosting Grinnell at 3 p.m. Jan. 21.

The win over Beloit marked the first time LFC had won in 20 outings against the league power.

"We held our composure well on the court without using timeouts," Coach Ed Timm said.

The Foresters found themselves down by five points with just over 5 minutes left. But Ryan Hayes hit a trey and Jermaine Williams canned a three-point lead for the advantage the home team would not give up.

Freshman Trent Hoover scored 15 points in playing what Timm described as his best game.

The Foresters were ahead by 9 points early in the first half but the Bucs closed the margin to 30-27 at intermission. At Appleton, the home crowd was thrilled with a game-winning half-court shot.

"We had two guys on him. They played well and we were a little flat," Timm said. The entire game was close with neither team being able to mount more than a 4-point lead. LFC trailed 31-29 at halftime.

Lack of players keeps CLC struggling

Six is hardly a number usually associated with a college basketball team, but that is the number College of Lake County's team will have to work with.

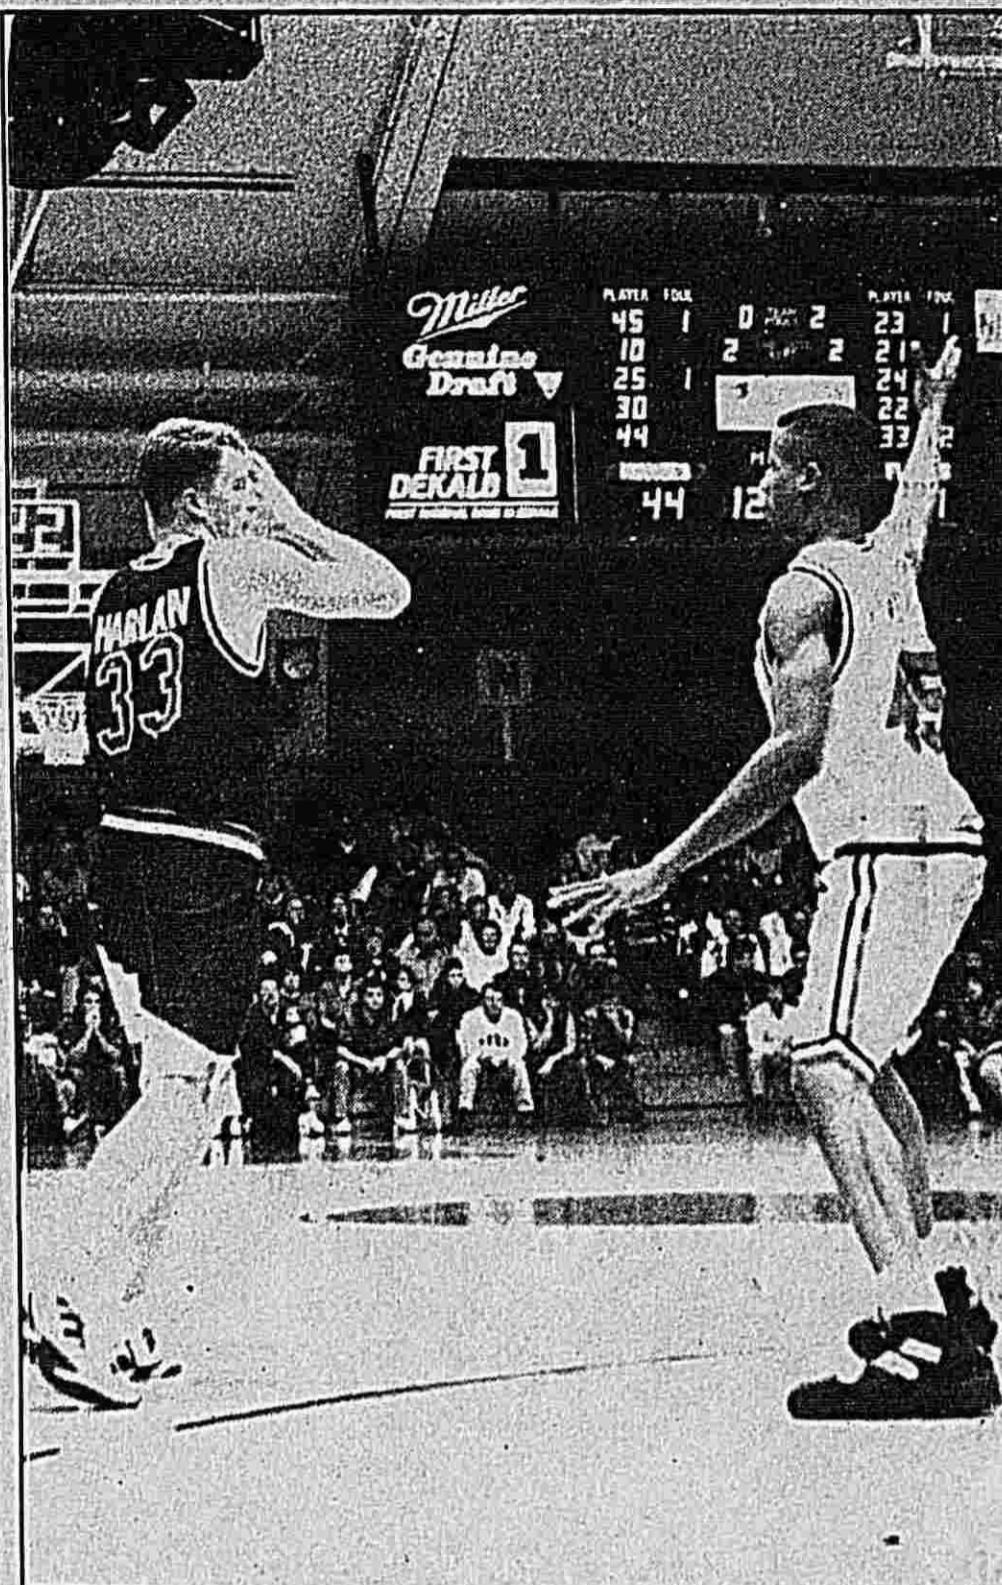

The Lancers lost the Skyway Conference opener 75-57. But more importantly, the game was Debbie Pope's last as a Lancer as her family is moving.

"It will be an uphill battle. We only have six players, so we will have to regroup for the umpteenth time," Coach Don Zeman said.

CLC stayed close to Elgin for the first 10 minutes before the Spartans sparked to a 43-34 half-time lead.

"We did not have patience at the end of the first half," Zeman said.

Shawn Harlan looks for the open teammate. Harlan scored 11 points and had 9 rebounds as University of Illinois-Chicago downed Northern Illinois 80-71. He scored 17 points against Butler in another UIC win. Defending is NIU's Hubert Register.

Krombach gives Carmel steady play

Colleen Krombach knew her duties would be different her junior year as a Carmel High basketball player.

"I played varsity last year, but this year I knew I would have to be more of a leader," Krombach said.

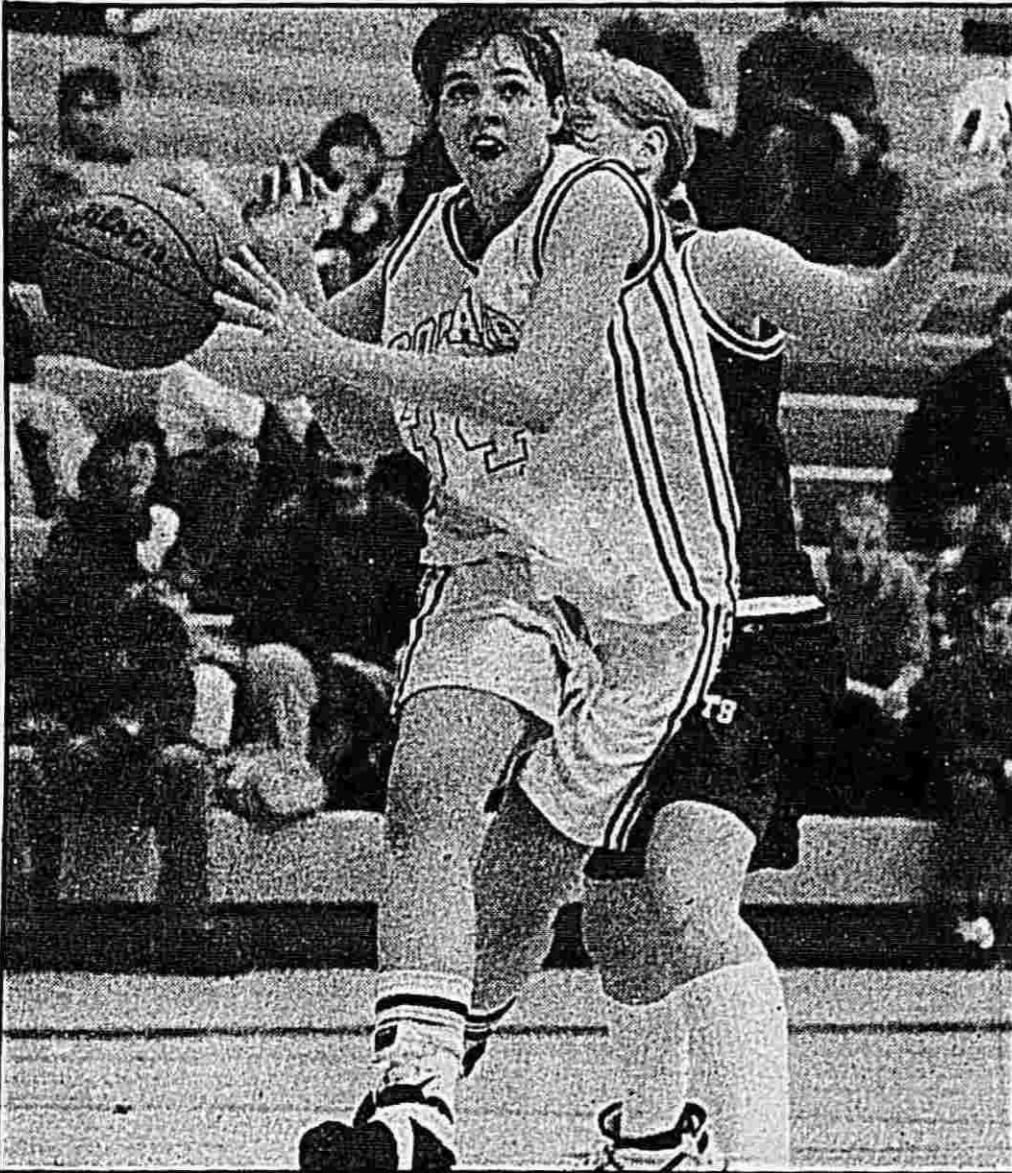

She was indeed Monday as she scored 15 points to lead Carmel to a 41-25 win over Highland Park.

Efforts of Krombach, Erin

Potempa (9 points) and the hustle of Amy Kocsis and Jenny Tully were important as a promising prospect sat on the bench and kept stats.

Jennifer Thul reaggravated a shoulder injury last week in warm-ups before the Loyola game.

"It changes our offense completely," Carmel Coach Larry Whittier said.

Harlan

The 8th year coach described Harlan as "an unsung hero. He blends in and does his job."

The contest featured a reunion of sorts as Chris Coleman, a Stevenson grad, is a sophomore at NIU. He scored 13 points and 5 rebounds and 2 assists in 35 minutes. Coleman had 18 points and was his team's second-leading scorer in a 90-65 rout of Loyola on Saturday. The win gave NIU a 2-2 conference record.

"UIC did not play a great game, but a good game. The critical factor for us was ballhandling. We had a lot of turnovers," NIU Coach Brian Hammel said. NIU had 20 turnovers compared to the Flames' 12.

"We have asked Colleen to do a lot more," assistant Dean Beetschen said.

"Thul had the shoulder injury for a while, and she was in excruciating pain," he said.

Thul, a sophomore, is expected to have surgery this week.

Whittier said he plans to bring up sophomore Jill Denoma to give the team a three forward rotation.

Carmel achieved its 10th win of the season and showed why it is the No. 4 seed the Stevenson Sectional Complex.

Free throws allowed Carmel to pull away from Highland Park. The Corsairs finished with 15-of-17, including five straight in the fourth period.

"We came out flat in the first three minutes of the third quarter. The lead gave us a false sense of security," Beetschen said.

Carmel led 8-0 at the outset, 10-2 after eight minutes. Highland Park shot less than 5 percent the entire first half, which saw Carmel ahead 22-2 at one point.

The Giants (5-13) cut the gap to nine points in the third quarter. But Carmel turned up the defensive notches up by a few and halted any Highland Park rally thoughts.

Kocsis led the Corsairs in the "floor burn" category with 7. Potempa had 4 and Erin Clancy 2.

Carmel knows it has to work on its shooting - 14-for-43. "It is not like we are not working on it. We must have shot 300 shots in practice," Whittier said.

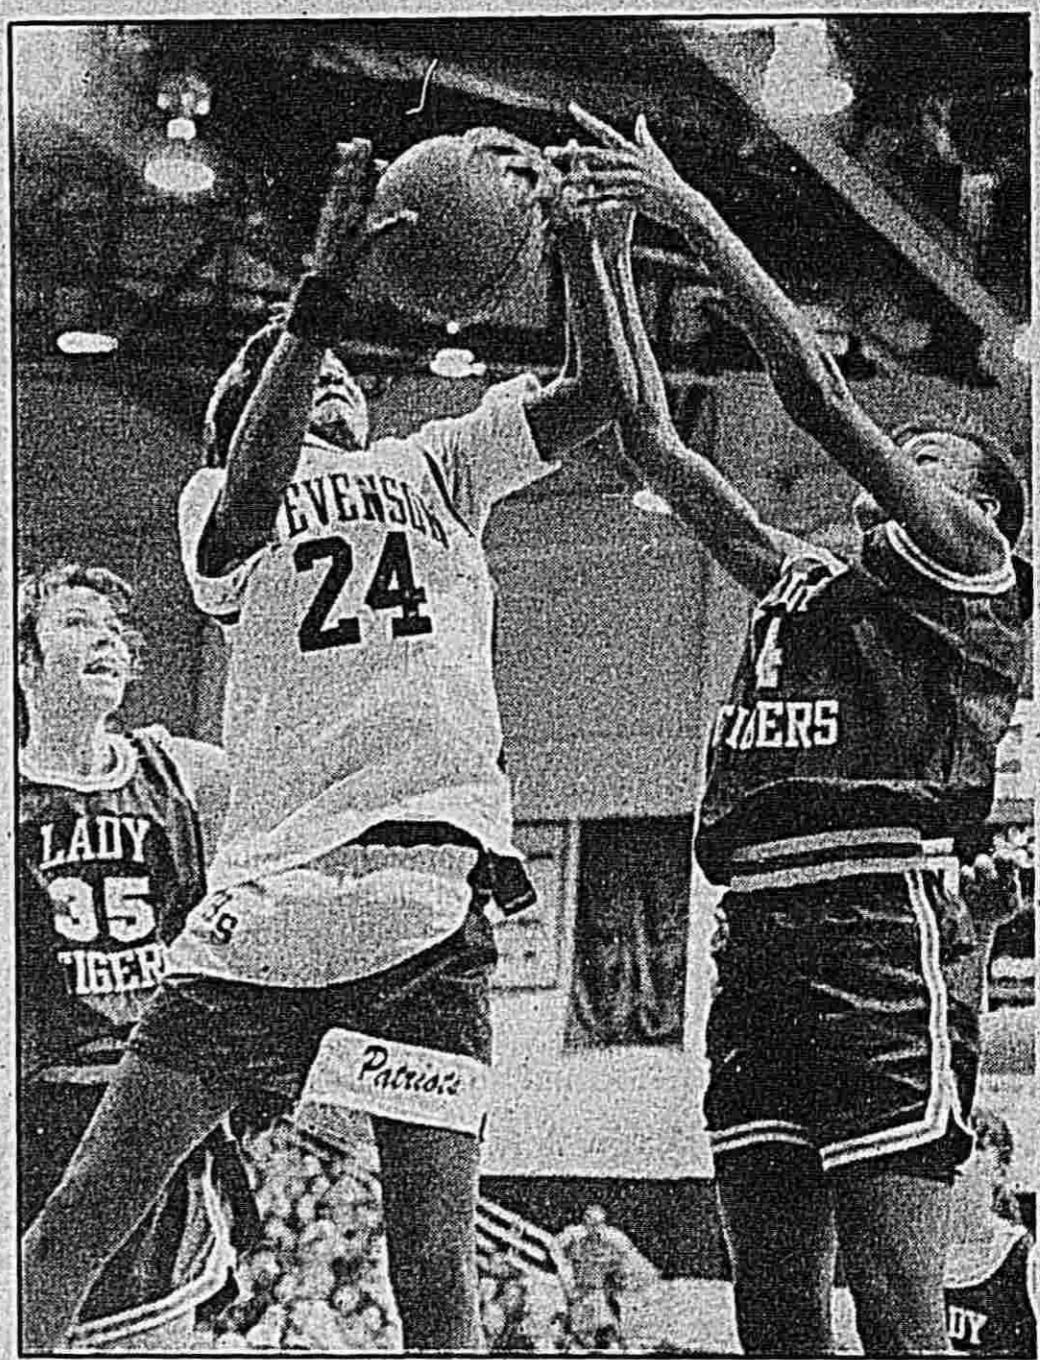

Carmel gave St. Scholastica a fight in a 42-39 loss. Potempa and Krombach had 12 each.

Carmel, though is upbeat with the sectional seeding news as it prepares for a Jan. 24 game at Waukegan.

"I think we are playing more as a team," Krombach, of Grayslake, said.

The two teams are likely to meet again as Highland Park is the 13th sectional seed.

"They say it is hard to play a team three times, but twice is not as bad. It was good to see them and see what we have to work on," Whittier said.

Patriots

Stevenson led 13-10 after one as the visitors from Ohio discovered they could not intimidate this North Suburban Conference powerhouse. The two teams were tied at 22 at halftime but Pinckerton opened up a 6-point lead after three.

Illinois' top girls basketball team did not have much time to relish the win or just wait around for Wednesday's USA Today rankings. The Pats, top seed in its own upcoming sectional, were preparing for arch rival Libertyville Jan. 19 and an expected easier time of it against winless North Chicago at 2:30 p.m. at home Jan. 21.

Preparation and Patriots—that has a nice sound to it.
